NAPHTHA CARS TELESCOPED.

This long list is the result of a series of four accidents, culminating in one of the most frightful disasters in the history of Greater Pittsburg. The telescoping of naphtha tank cars in the yards of the Panhandle railroad company in Corks Run was followed by the ignition of the naphtha by an open switch lamp; by the flowing of the naphtha, first free, then ignited, through the culvert leading to the Ohio river half a mile away, and its explosion, with attendant damage to life and property; by the explosion of three other naphtha tanks at the point of the original mishap after hundreds of people had been attracted to the spot by the burning naphtha, which was sending up flames a hundred feet high, making a brilliant spectacle—an explosion which was first seen and then heard as far away as Duquesne Heights; a fearsome sight, a horrid clamor; by the shrieks of hundreds of people running this way and that, not knowing which way they were going, their clothes afire, their hair afire, their faces burning to a crisp, their bodies baking, their souls, all unwilling, preparing to meet their Maker.

COLORED MEN TO HAVE BANK

BRANCH OF THE ORDER OF TRUE REFORMERS ORGANIZED.

Officers Elected to Manage New Banking and Savings Institution in Fort Wayne.

Colored people of Fort Wayne and northern Indiana are to have a bank and savings institution, established, owned and managed by themselves. The bank will be located in this city and it is expected that it will be ready for business within a very few weeks.

The institution will be a branch bank of the Order of True Reformers and a local organization was formed last evening at a meeting held in the African M. E. church. Officers were elected as follows:

President—T. R. Nesbitt.

Secretary—Thomas Williams.

Treasurer—Rev. Alexander Smith.

Twenty members signed the application for a charter, which will reach the city within a few days. The order of True Reformers is an association of colored people, organized at Richmond, Va., in 1881, to do a banking and savings business, and with it are connected insurance and real estate departments. A general banking business is done and the savings department is a special feature. Shares of stock are $5 each, and special inducements are offered for the colored people to deposit their savings, interest being paid at the rate of 4 per cent.

The institution is said to have done a total business in 1901 of $5,582,900. The headquarters are at Richmond, Va., but branches have been instituted in many different states. It is proposed to purchase a building near the central part of the city and establish the Fort Wayne branch on a substantial scale from the outset, the headquarters of the society furnishing ample capital on which business may be done. A deputy will be in the city shortly to attend to the details of the opening of the new branch, which will be the first in Indiana. The Fort Wayne district will include the entire northern part of the state.

A REVIEW ORDERED

RATHBONE'S CASE TO HAVE AN EXAMINATION.

PRESIDENT DECREES ACTION

DIRECTS ROOT TO CONFER RIGHT ON CUBAN COURT.

RELIEF BILL PASSES SENATE

HOUSE SENDS CLAIMS BILL BACK TO CONFERENCE.

Washington, May 13.—The president has directed Secretary Root to confer upon the Cuban court of appeals the right to review the testimony in the case of Estes G. Rathbone, convicted of complicity in the Cuban postal frauds, with authority to take additional evidence if it so desires. This authority will be immediately conferred and it is presumed the court will act at once.

IN THE SENATE.

Washington, May 13.—Soon after the senate convened today Mr. Cullom, from the committee on foreign relations, reported a joint resolution appropriating $500,000, including the $200,000 already appropriated, to be expended under direction of the president in such manner as will most promptly and efficiently relieve the stricken people of the French West Indies and St. Vincent.

The resolution was adopted without comment.

After some other business the agricultural appropriation bill was taken up for consideration and finally passed without discussion, all the amendments being agreed to.

Mr. Stewart, of Nevada, then addressed the senate in support of the Philippine government bill.

IN THE HOUSE.

Washington, May 13.—The omnibus claims bill was sent back to conference this afternoon with a motion to instruct the conferees not to accept the senate amendment covering the findings of the Selfridge naval board for balances due on vessels during the civil war. Mr. Underwood, of Alabama, made a point of order against the conference report on the claims bill that the conferees had introduced matter not authorized by either branch of congress. He was sustained by the speaker in a pointed ruling.

Mr. Mahon, of Pennsylvania, chairman of the committee having charge of the measure, promptly appealed from the decision of the chair and Mr. Underwood moved to table the appeal. Coming from the republican side of the chamber, an appeal from the decision of the chair caused some surprise. On being appealed by his associates, Mr. Mahon withdrew his appeal from the speaker's decision.

The naval appropriation bill was then taken up. It carries a total of $77,639,386. Mr. Foss, of Illinois, chairman of the naval committee, explained the measure in detail.

INTERURBAN MEN HERE.

W. B. McKinley, of Champaign, Ill., president, and George E. Macomber, of Augusta, Me., secretary of the Fort Wayne and Southwestern Traction company, arrived in the city last evening. Today the gentlemen made an inspection of the work being done on the city terminal of the interurban line. Mr. McKinley expressed himself as highly pleased at the progress that is being made, and assured The Sentinel that his visit had no significance other than a casual inspection of the work on the down-town line. They will leave the city tomorrow.

START PIGEON RACES.

Henry Beach and Louis Gibford completed the training season of their homing pigeons when they released sixty birds at Logansport this morning. Next Sunday the season's racing will commence, the participants being pigeons from the lofts of Dr. Schilling, Henry Beach, Louis Gibford, Oscar Griebel, William Link and J. Fisher. The birds will be released at 6 o'clock at Lafayette, a distance of 101 miles from Fort Wayne. Following this will be races of 200, 300, 400, 500 and 600 miles, respectively.

G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT BEGINS.

Indianapolis, May 13.—The annual encampment of the Indiana G. A. R. began here today with a large attendance. The first meeting was held this afternoon. The chief event of the encampment will be the dedication of the soldiers' and sailors' monument in Monument place, on Thursday.

NUSSBAUM A CAPTAIN.

Victor Nussbaum, a son of Peter Nussbaum, of this city, who is attending Purdue university at Lafayette, has just been chosen captain of company F, in the university military organization, which has just been revived on a more extensive scale than ever before.

LAST EXAMINATION SATURDAY

Next Saturday County Superintendent Young will hold the last examination for the year for graduation from the common and high schools of the county. A very large class is expected from the district schools in the various townships.

GEORGE ALBANUS IN PARIS

MISSING MAN CABLES FROM FRENCH CAPITAL.

Announces His Return to Fort Wayne in Two Weeks—No Explanation for His Absence.

George Albanus, the carriage dealer over whose unexplained absence friends in this city were much concerned for some time, is in Paris, France, and has announced that he will arrive in Fort Wayne within the next two weeks.

It is learned that his wife, who remained at her home in this city, received a cablegram from her husband to this effect last Friday afternoon, and since that time her fears for her husband's safety have been allayed. Mr. Albanus left the city about three weeks ago to visit Pittsburg in search of a position. From that time until the receipt of the cablegram Friday Mrs. Albanus had heard no word from her husband, and she feared he had met with foul play. He had sold his residence the day before leaving Fort Wayne, but left considerable money standing to his credit in a number of banks in this city.

Mrs. Albanus had no intimation that her husband contemplated a trip to Europe, and was completely mystified as to his whereabouts until the receipt of the cablegram. The message was in German, and simply announced the intention to return to Fort Wayne in two weeks. No explanation was given as to the occasion for the trip to Europe.

PRESIDENT SAM GOES AWAY

LATE HAYTIEN EXECUTIVE IS NOW AN EXILE.

While He is Leaving General Firman is Proclaimed President—Fighting Continues.

Port-Au-Prince, Hayti, May 13.—Ex-President Sam embarked at 11:30 a. m. today on the French steamer Olinde Rodrigues.

At about the time the former president embarked on the French steamer here news was received from Cape Haytien, on the north coast, to the effect that General Firmin, late Haytien minister in Paris, had arrived at Cape Haytien and had been proclaimed president.

Further fighting occurred in the streets here before and after midnight. Some of the leaders of the revolution have retired to the United States legation.

WILL REPLACE BUILDING.

Trustee Jerry Klopfenstine, of Leo, was in the city today in consultation with architects regarding plans for a new school building for Leo, to replace the structure recently condemned by the county health authorities as unsafe. The new structure is to be a four-story building of modern type, and will probably cost from $8,000 to $10,000.

C. C. Hollenbeck, living on South Wayne avenue, had his hand caught under the knife of one of the big leather cutters in the Freiburger glove factory, on Columbia street, and a gash several inches in length was cut in the member. Dr. English put several stitches in the wound.

Miss Alice Stafford, the seventeen-year-old daughter of Mrs. Langhor, of 1031 East Wayne street, fell down a flight of stairs Sunday evening and broke her collar bone. The young lady was preparing to descend the stairs with a lamp, when her dress caught and she fell.

DEAD SEALED IN LAVA TOMBS.

Fort de France, Island of Martinique, May 13.—Strange to relate, in view of the number of inhabitants of St. Pierre who were swept to death by the volcanic waves from Mont Pelee, on Thursday last, very few corpses have been found by those who are engaged in the work of cremating the dead bodies. This is due to the fact that the most populous quarters of the town are buried under a thick layer of cindered lava, which apparently entirely consumed the bodies of the victims.

DEAD AT ST. VINCENT.

Castries, Island of St. Lucia, May 13.—It is announced in advices received here this morning (Tuesday) from the Island of St. Vincent, British West Indies, that 1,600 persons have perished there since the Soufriere volcano has been in eruption.

A SURVIVOR'S STORY.

New York, May 13.—James Taylor, who was one of the officers of the Roraima, the Quebec,", a steamship which was destroyed in the harbor of St. Pierre, gives a graphic story of the tragedy of last Thursday, says a dispatch to the Herald from St. Kitts, Island of St. Christopher, B. W. I.

"We experienced the greatest difficulty in getting into port," said he. "Appalling sounds were issuing from the mountains behind the town, which were shrouded in darkness. All the passengers were up and some were trying to obtain photographs.

"Suddenly I heard a tremendous explosion. Ashes began to fall thicker upon the deck and I could see a black cloud sweeping down upon us. I dived below, and dragging with me Samuel Thomas, a gangwayman and fellow countryman, sprang into a room, shutting the door to keep out the heat that was already unbearable.

"The ship rocked and I expected every moment that it would sink. Outside I heard a voice pleading for the door to be opened. It was Scott, the first officer, and I opened the door and dragged him into the room.

UNBEARABLY HOT.

"It soon became unbearably hot and I went on deck. All about was lying the dead and the dying. Little children were moaning for water. I did what I could for them. I obtained water, but when it was held to their swollen lips they were unable to swallow because of the ashes which clogged their throats. One little chap took water in this manner and rinsed out the ashes, but even then could not swallow, so badly was his throat burned. He sank back unconscious and a few minutes later was dead. All aft the ship was afire and from the land came draughts of terrible heat. At last, when I could stand it no longer, I sprang overboard. The water was almost hot enough to parboil me, but a wave soon swept in from the ocean, bringing with it cool water.

"I was caught in the receding wave, which was of tidal velocity, and was carried out to sea. Then on the second return of the wave I was washed against an upturned sloop, to which I clung.

"A few minutes later I was joined by another man, whom I learned was Captain Muggah, of the Roraima. He was in dreadful agony and kept begging piteously to be put on board his ship.

MADE A RAFT.

"Picking up some wreckage and a tool chest, I and five others who joined me succeeded in forming a rude raft, on which we placed the captain. Seeing an upturned boat, I asked one of the five to swim out to it and bring it over, so that Captain Muggah might have an opportunity to live. The man succeeded in getting the boat righted, but instead of returning, he picked up two of his countrymen and went away in the direction of Fort De France.

"Seeing the Roddam, which had arrived in port soon after we anchored, making for the Roraima, I said good-bye to Captain Muggah and swam to the Roddam. Before I could reach her she burst into flames and put out to sea. I finally reached the Roraima about half past 2 o'clock in the afternoon and later was taken off by the cruiser Suchet."

Samuel Thomas, the gangwayman whose life was saved by Taylor, describes a woman who was burned to death while she held her baby in her arms, protecting it with her own body from the fire that filled the air. The child was alive long after its mother had ceased to suffer.

WALTER N. HALDEMAN DEAD.

Louisville, Ky., May 13.—Walter N. Haldeman, president of the Louisville Courier-Journal company and one of the oldest active newspaper men in the country, died suddenly at 5 o'clock from the effects of injuries received by being struck by a trolley car Saturday morning. He was over 81 years old.

The Women's Christian Temperance union will meet in the Berry street M. E. church Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Important business will be transacted.

Mrs. Samuel Kariger, of 187 Harmar street, will entertain the ladies of the U. V. L. Wednesday afternoon.

Many of Our Boys and Girls are Suffering This Month from the After Effects of Winter Grippe.

Wise Parents Provide

Paine's Celery Compound

For Their Loved Ones.

The Wondrous Medicine Quickly Expels all Germ Poisons from the Blood and Fortifies the Weak and Run Down System.

A busy city physician, enjoying a large annual income, remarked the other day that a host of young people—boys and girls—were suffering this month from the after effects of winter grippe.

Dear parents, have any of your children suffered from an attack of the cruel monster grippe during the past winter months? Are your boys and girls irritable, feverish, pale or weak? Have they cold and clammy limbs? Is the blood watery, impure or sluggish? Is the appetite poor and digestion weak? Has the rose tint of health faded from the cheeks? If any of these conditions are noted, be assured the dregs of deadly grippe are implanted in the system.

If your children are not blithesome, happy, boisterous and strong in May, their condition calls for prompt action on your part. Their future—health and physical happiness or sufferings and early death—is in your hands, dear parents, and you alone are responsible to heaven and the community of which you form a part.

When winter grippe has implanted seeds of virulent diseases, the first and most important work is to expel from the blood every trace of poison. This is always successfully accomplished by the use of Paine's Celery Compound.

This marvelous medicine, after purifying the foul and stagnant blood, acts as a nerve food. It builds up the nervous system and nourishes all the bodily tissues.

Boys and girls with such a start in life as they always receive from Paine's Celery Compound grow up as sturdy as forest oaks; they revel in strength and true life; they are fair to behold; they make the men and women most needed by our country. Do your part this month, dear parents, with promptness and honesty, and rest assured Paine's Celery Compound will not fail in its grand work of health building.

APPALLING HORROR.

will never be told, for no words can picture the horror of the scene, the terror it inspired, the havoc it wrought.

Grim, ironic fate invited the populace to a magnificent spectacle so that they might be made victims.

The telescoping of the cars was one of those things that not infrequently happens without serious consequences. Its subsequent ignition by an open switch lamp is a matter which will later be given full investigation. The cause of the explosion at the point where it once again broke out into the open is still a matter of conjecture. It may be that the flame followed fast the naphtha that had gone before and resented the cramped quarters of the culvert's opening, sending out a sheet of naphtha and flame that ruined half a dozen houses in the neighborhood, wrecking them, setting them on fire, injuring not less than a hundred people incidentally.

TERRIFIC SHOCK.

The shock of the shot from this cannon culvert was felt across the river in Allegheny, where windows were broken. The burning of the naphtha at the fountain head, the two naphtha tanks, was spectacular in the extreme. It was a giant pillar of fire, the whole surrounded by a glorious crown of iridescent hue. People came from far and near to view the sight.

Full two hours after the fire had started there came the second explosion. There were three other naphtha tanks in the immediate neighborhood of the two that had been telescoped and were burning. These had been growing hotter and hotter and efforts to get them out of range had for some reason been ineffectual. With a mighty splash of flame across the heavens and a cannonade that made the hills quake, the tanks let go almost at the same moment.

A DELUGE OF FLAMES.

From the heavens there descended tons of burning naphtha, flaming timber, red-hot iron, and the people on the hill tops were beaten down, one after another, by the force of the falling. Maddened by pain, crazed, knowing nothing, feeling everything, they dashed hither and thither, tearing their clothes from their backs as they ran. Some ran direct toward the railroad, down the turnpike; others madly tried to climb the hills; others groveled on the ground; and died as they ran or climbed or groveled.

By the freaks of chance there were some few left unscathed by the demon holocaust. These hurried to give aid to the less fortunate, tore the burning clothes from their backs, beat out the flames, carried the desperately injured to more secure spots, and sent for the medical aid of which they were in need.

A LACK OF AMBULANCES.

Speedily all of the local hospitals were notified of the second and greater catastrophe. It was soon seen that the ambulances of all the hospitals in the city would not be able to adequately give attention to the injured. Doctors were sent for in all directions and they were hurried to the spot on special engines provided by the railroad company. The southern division of the Pittsburg railway company, moreover, sent out a number of cars especially for the transportation of the injured, and these were lined up both on the Sheraden road and the McKees Rocks road and the unfortunate ones were tenderly carried to them.

Not the least exciting of the many scenes attendant on the catastrophe was the scene of the arrival of the victims in this city. People lined the roads all the way in and eagerly looked at the vehicles innumerable that carried the dead and dying to the morgue and the hospitals.

CURIOUS DEFY RAIN.

Despite the fact that the rain came pouring down all morning, thousands went to Sheraden today and the cars and trains were crowded with curious people from all parts, who went for the sake of seeing what had happened.

The scene is certainly gruesome. The Sheraden yards lie between two hills. On the north side there is a steep cut, but on the south side it is not so high. All over the hills on either side of the tracks hundreds were searching today for clothing which the injured tore from them when the burning fluid was thrown upon them. Lined upon these hills are thousands watching the crews of the wreck trains at work. The smoke from the smouldering wreck fills the cut and the wind blows it against the spectators. Passenger trains are gliding by the wreck quickly since the news of the gas main became known in the city.

DISCARDED CLOTHING.

Two flat cars lie on the siding covered with clothing picked up during the night. The majority of this is charred rags.

Sheraden, usually a quiet place, is all bustle. Women are leaving their housework undone and many men and boys have remained home from work to watch the closing chapter in the awful horror that has visited the town has ever had and the worst in the annals of the county.

It is a common sight in Sheraden this morning to see people with their heads and hands bandaged on the porches, the streets and at the wreck. Many were burned whose names have not appeared and while they are not seriously hurt they are suffering more or less pain.

FEAR GREATER DANGER.

The officials of the Pan Handle road fear a worse explosion than the three which wrought so much damage yesterday. A danger line has been established 500 yards on all sides of the burning wreckage and the railroad police are keeping the curious crowd back. A few feet below the burning wreckage the big thirty-six inch main of the Philadelphia company, which comes from the gas fields in the southwestern portion of the state and which supplies the McKees Rocks and lower Allegheny districts with natural gas, lies.

It is feared that the concussion was so great yesterday that some of the joints or even the pipe itself might have been damaged and if such is the case the gas, which is under great pressure, will soon force its way through and another terrific explosion would follow.

About twenty cars are piled up between the Sheraden station and Corks run in the Sheraden yards. This is still a mass of flame. It covers an area of 40 by 150 feet. In this there are all kinds of merchandise. The volunteer fire department of Sheraden and No. 10 engine company from the west end are playing streams on the burning debris, but little headway is being made owing to the fact that the entire wreckage is saturated with naphtha and kerosene and every now and then a fresh volume of flame shoots out from various portions of the smouldering ruins.

HEAT MAY IGNITE GAS.

Regarding the big main beneath the burning wreckage it is feared that the intense heat from the fire will get down to the pipes if the fire is not soon extinguished. If the concussion has not caused any breaks it is feared that the intense heat might and this is the reason that the officials are zealous in their efforts to get the flames subdued. The freight in the debris is a complete loss. It is said that the whole affair will be one of the most costly that the road has ever had.

Superintendent McCarthy, of the Pan Handle Railroad company, was asked this morning regarding his theory for the cause of the explosion. He replied that as yet he had not decided what caused the explosion. The people about the place seem to think that the leaking naphtha caught from a switch lamp or the fire box of one of the engines. They hold that the naphtha need not come in direct contact with a light, but that fumes rising from it would catch from a light even if it was high above where the naphtha flowed. Instead of burning upward the ignited fumes would follow the column down to the base of supply or the running naphtha and then the combustion would be complete. Mr. McCarthy said he would investigate the matter thoroughly and would announce his finding and decision in a few days.

ABOUT THE COURT HOUSE.

The Keller divorce case is dragging its nasty length along in the circuit court and it is doubtful whether all the evidence will be submitted at today's session. There are still many witnesses to be examined and some of them may have to be brought in on ambulances.

The superior court is not in session today.

The will of Francis J. Fuchs, recently deceased, was filed for probate today. The testator's property is divided among his direct descendants, and George W. Fruhberger is named as executor.

Joseph Mathieu, a saloonkeeper at the corner of Lumbard street and New Haven avenue, reported to the sheriff at noon today that last night somebody had stolen a case of beer and a keg of the same beverage from a refrigerator which he kept unlocked in his back yard. He did not say whether he had pinned any ten-dollar bills on his back fence as a bait, or not.

The will of the late Claude F. Eme was again brought up in the circuit court this afternoon. The late Mr. Eme died in 1900 and his will was duly probated, but no executor was ever appointed and none was named in the will. Today Henry Wagner qualified as administrator of the estate with will annexed. The will devises a practically equal division of his property among his three children.

Judge O'Rourke this afternoon issued a decree to quiet title as prayed for in the case of Mihlser vs. Klotz et al.

Willard LeRoy yesterday was arraigned to plead to a charge of grand larceny. He pleaded not guilty and the case was set for trial before the circuit court jury on Saturday next.

Mary C. Winch, widow of Homer D. Winch, has filed suit to recover the sum of $1,500 from the Modern Fraternal Order, of which he was a member at the time of his death. The suit is upon contract to recover

DEATH'S RECORD OF THE DAY

MRS. SARAH STRACK SUCCUMBS TO OLD AGE.

Little Son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cran Dies From Scarlet Fever

—Other Mortuary Matters.

Mrs. Sarah Strack, for more than forty-five years a resident of this city, died late Monday afternoon, at the age of eighty-three years. Mrs. Strack had for many years made her home with her daughters, the Misses Mary and Emma Strack, at Broadway and Jefferson streets. Death was due to the infirmities of age. She had been failing rapidly for several weeks.

Mrs. Strack was a most estimable woman, widely known and a devout member of the First Baptist church. Her husband died many years ago. Surviving are two daughters and three sons—the Misses Mary and Emma Strack, E. W. Strack, of Ashland, Ky.; John Strack, of Van Wert, Ohio, and M. E. Strack, of Chicago.

CRAN.

Cecil Ray Cran, the lovable little son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Cran, of 99 Baker street, died at an early hour this morning from congestion of the brain, which ensued from scarlet fever. The little one was 3 years, 9 months and 11 days old, and had been ill only since Saturday.

The funeral services will be held privately from the residence Wednesday morning at 9:30. Interment at Lindenwood.

FUNERAL ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Homeyer.—Funeral services of Frederick W. Homeyer will be held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from Trinity Lutheran church.

Becker.—Funeral services of Louis Becker will be held Thursday morning at 8:30 from the residence, 2905 Gay street, and at 9 o'clock from St. Peter's Catholic church.

HE LOST THE CONTRIBUTION.

The negro is a somewhat uncertain factor in the politics of some of the southern states. That his vote is generally regarded as purchasable is not questioned. In fact, not many of the race will refuse to dicker on the basis of the ballot they control. Representative Kluttz, of North Carolina, relates this story as illustrative of the methods of campaigning the marketing of negro votes has brought about.

"There was a campaign for mayor in Charlotte some years ago," said he, "and there were two democratic candidates. One of them was a benign old colonel of the courteous and gentlemanly school. As there were two candidates from the same party, much depended on the colored vote.

"The colonel one morning was accosted by an aged darky. 'Boss, can yo' lend me a quarter?' asked the latter.

" 'Good morning, my friend,' said the colonel graciously. 'How would a half dollar do?'

"The darky was delighted.

" 'What ward do you vote in?' added the colonel, still in very gracious mood.

" 'Deed, boss, I doan' vote in no ward. I live out yander in de country.'

" 'What in h—l do you mean, you low-down nigger, by accosting a gentleman on the street?' roared the colonel as he closed his pocketbook and walked away without making the contribution."

SUBMARINE'S DEEP PLUNGE.

The submarine Silure has just been subjected to some interesting experiments. It was sunk to a depth of 135 feet with the view of testing the effect of the water pressure, which at this depth is 63 pounds to the square inch. The commander and the engineer were provided with instruments to measure the compression, which showed that the hull yielded to the extent of one millimeter (.039 of an inch). The crew experienced no more discomfort at this depth than at the average submersion. The lowest depth reached by a diver is said to be 204 feet, with a pressure of 88½ pounds; the lowest depth attained in a caisson was 110½ feet, with a pressure of 51 pounds, at the sinking of the piers for the St. Louis bridge over the Mississippi.—London Express.

CAUSES FOR AVOIDING CHURCH

There is a certain bishop whose piety is unquestioned, but who has an unfortunate habit of preaching very long sermons. He has, besides, an exceedingly sonorous voice, and people living anywhere within a block of his church can hear him without taking the trouble to enter he was announced to preach at a popular church, and the family who entertained him had a little daughter who was very fond of attending service. When the family got ready little Elsie flatly refused to go with them.

"I don't want to go to church," she declared.

"What's the matter?" asked the mother, much surprised, "are you ill?"

"I don't like the bishop," confessed the child.

"Oh, Elsie, that's a wicked thing to say!" gasped the mother.

"I hate the bishop," insisted the little one.

"Tell mother why," said the hostess.

"Well," said Elsie, confidently, "the bishop preaches so long that I can't keep awake, and he preaches so loud that I can't go to sleep." As the divine tells the story on himself, it's probably true.

HOW BOB GOT HIS PARDON.

Ex-Governor Hoge Tyler, of Virginia, whose term expired in December last, says the New York Times, was especially generous in granting pardons. From many of them he derived much pleasure in the gratitude of the unfortunates and often received material for an amusing story. One of these he tells was of a negro from Richmond convicted of some slight offense who had convinced the governor that he had been sufficiently punished and who was accordingly granted a pardon. The pardoned prisoner's young brother learned of his release before the ex-convict could reach home and rushed to tell their mother the good news.

"Oh, mammie," he cried, "Bob's dun got out and 's mos' heah now."

"Bless de Lud," exclaimed the mother, "but how'd he git out? He ain't dun busted out, is he?"

"Naw, mammie, de guv-nor jist sint down an' axed his pardin and told him to go home."

A COMPROMISE.

According to the dispatches, court etiquette and religious scruples have had an amusing tussle at The Hague. The trouble arose when the daughters of Dr. Kuyper, the premier, were invited to the first court ball of the season. Low-necked dresses were commanded, but the Misses Kuyper decided that decollete dresses were inconsistent with their religious principles. They applied for a dispensation, but received a curt reply from the mistress of the ceremonies, who declared that time-honored customs of the Dutch court must be adhered to.

Dr. Kuyper made direct representations on the subject to Queen Wilhelmina, with the result that a compromise was arranged. The Misses Kuyper will stay away from the ball, but will take tea with their sovereign in high-necked dresses the same afternoon.—San Francisco Argonaut.

LACK OF REST

THE MAN OR WOMAN WHO FAILS TO GET REFRESHING SLEEP IS ON HEALTH'S DOWNGRADE—FORT WAYNE PEOPLE KNOW THE REMEDY.

It is a feature of the worry and hustle of present day living that wakefulness and restlessness beget headaches, languor, failing strength—people go at their work in a listless, half-hearted way. Ordinary treatments have no effect, because they have not the secret power of organizing nerve force peculiar to Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills, the great success of which is attested by residents of Fort Wayne.

Mrs. M. Holzworth, of No. 285 Webster St., Fort Wayne, Ind., says: "My nerves, since I took Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills I got at Meyer Bros. & Co.'s drug store, No. 14 Calhoun St., are strong and steady and I sleep well. This is quite a change from past restlessness and inability to sleep and I am very much pleased. The strength in general is good again. The medicine certainly is a good nerve and all round tonic."

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are sold at 50c a box at dealers or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y. See that portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., are on every package.

Miss Naomi Keyser, who has been teaching a district school near Walen, has returned to her home in Pennsylvania.

Many an ambitious man so lusts for fame that he will accept a doubtful brand rather than none at all. Congressman Underwood, of Alabama, will be longer remembered as the man who objected to passing a bill to appropriate money to relieve the sufferers in Martinique than for anything else, unless meanwhile he should do something worse, which perhaps isn't unlikely.

Santos-Dumont declares the fatal accident to Aeronaut Severo, his compatriot, has not frightened him, but he fears the effect will be to make other aeronauts timid and capital afraid. From the frequency with which modern airships go up as costly pieces of mechanism and come down twisted masses of metal, it would look as though the game was rather perilous to capitalists and empyrean sailors alike.

If there is any reason why the government should make war on the beef trust, the same reason exists for making war on the coal trust. As a matter of fact the coal trust is the more burdensome and extortionate of the two. Those who cannot afford to pay the prices the beef trust chooses to impose can quit eating flesh and in most cases perhaps be little the worse for it, but when the rigors of winter are down upon the country fuel is a necessity that cannot be compromised with in any fashion and the trust that controls the coal supply can go to what lengths of depotism it will and the people have no alternative but to submit to the robbery. If the suit against the packers' combine comes to any result the people will demand that the anti-trust law be applied to that worst of all examples of this modern industrial feudalism called the coal trust.

The late city elections have demonstrated one thing, and that is that the people in this day have made up their minds to vote for men and not for political parties, and that means that they will vote for the best men. In Harrisburg, Pa., the republicans have ruled uninterruptedly for many years and as in about every other Pennsylvania city, did not rule well. This spring the democrats put up a clean, strong, trustworthy man for mayor and the people elected him by 2,500 majority. It was not a victory for the democratic political organization in Harrisburg, but a victory of the people, a triumph of the moral sense of the community. The drift toward independence in politics is becoming strong and the time is not far distant, we believe, when the people will be convinced that the element of common sense in politics is just as essential as in other affairs.

Congress has appropriated $200,000 to be employed by the executive branch of this government according to its discretion for relief of the sufferers by the volcanic disturbances in the West indies. More will be appropriated if more be necessary and the amount will be limited only by the needs of the situation. The distress that weighs upon the survivors of that terrible calamity is heavy, indeed. Thousands of people have poured into Fort De France, on the island of Martinique, and they need food, clothing and shelter. In other cities of the West Indies refugees are being cared for as well as possible, but the resources there are extremely limited. Much money will be needed to relieve the distress of the living victims and the promptness and generosity of the American congress is under all the circumstances specially fitting.

STRAWBOARD DEAL A BIG ONE

MILLS OF FORT WAYNE MEN VALUED AT $500,000.

Sale Agreement is Ratified Yesterday—Will Receive $1,000,000 Worth of Combination Stock.

Stockholders of the Paragon and the Utility Paper companies, at a meeting yesterday afternoon, unanimously ratified the agreement for the sale of their mills to the United Board and Box Paper company, the new eastern strawboard combination. The attorney, C. H. Worden, was instructed to prepare the deeds for the mills at Hartford City and Mount Carmel, and the entire transaction will be completed by May 29.

The deal is a mammoth one, and it is learned that the price fixed for the two mills by the expert appraisement committee, is not far from $250,000 each. In the transfer of the property to the combination the stockholders in the Fort Wayne companies will receive preferred stock amounting in round numbers to $500,000. This is for the tangible property alone, and for other phases of the business, including good-will, they are to receive an equivalent amount in common stock of the United company. This means that when the deal is completed and the transfer of stock is made, about one million dollars of the stock of the new combination will come to the stockholders of the Paragon and the Utility companies.

The payment for good will, represented by the common stock, is estimated upon the basis of the earnings of the plants, and the price was fixed after a careful inspection of the business of the two companies. It is said the payment for good will was very large in excess of that received by other concerns purchased by the combination, for the reason that the business of both institutions has been most prosperous. The total capital stock of the new United company includes $15,000,000 of preferred stock and about $12,000,000 of common stock.

Those stockholders who preferred cash for their holdings instead of stock in the big company were given the alternative of 150 for the stock of the Paragon company, and par for the Utility. Only two or three stockholders accepted the cash offer, and their stock was promptly purchased by other stockholders, so that practically all the old stockholders will retain an interest in the United company.

The transfer is made upon the basis of a date of January 1 last, and within a short time it is expected an expert will arrive from the east to make some adjustments upon the business transacted since that date.

NEW APPOINTMENTS MADE

IMPORTANT MEETING OF Y. M. C. A. LAST NIGHT.

Resolutions Adopted on the Recent Deaths of Several Prominent Members.

An important meeting of the Railroad Y. M. C. A. committee of management was held last evening to make changes and fill vacancies in several offices made vacant by the death of several members recently.

J. M. McKay, president of the central board, appointed Crawford Griswold, L. M. Pfeiffer and J. H. McConnel members of the railroad department committee of management. J. E. N. Dillon succeeds Amos Sine, deceased, as chairman. Crawford Griswold was elected vice chairman to succeed Mr. Dillon. J. H. McConnel was elected recording secretary and F. M. Enslen was appointed chairman of the membership committee. Fifteen new members were admitted to the association.

The general secretary was authorized to attend the biennial conference of the general secretaries of North America, to be held June 11 to 15 at Mountain Lake Park, Md.

The following resolutions were adopted:

"Whereas, In the providence of God He has called to Himself our co-laborers, Brothers J. W. Parry, F. M. Mauk and Amos Sine, we hereby record the following:

"Resolved, That we recognize the sovereign right of our Heavenly Father to call hence these, our brethren; that He is too wise to err and too good to be unkind.

"Resolved, That in their being removed from us the association sustains a great loss, and that we, the committee of management, will lose their helpful counsel and Christian fellowship.

"Resolved, That we extend to the bereaved families our sincere sympathy and commend them to Him who doeth all things well.

"Resolved, That this action be spread upon the minutes of the association, a copy be sent to each family and to the press.

"J. E. N. Dillon, Chairman,
"B. E. Doty,
"Hiram A. Philley,
"J. W. Burns,

WOMEN EXPLORERS.

Dr. Sven Hedin, the most distinguished Swedish traveler of modern times, and who is supported in his researches in Asia by the King of Sweden and the Emperor of Russia, is making his way back to Stockholm to lay his report before King Oscar, after having been received at St. Petersburg by the Czar, to whom he intends returning the Cossack escort with which the Emperor Nicholas has kindly provided him during his Asiatic travels. Dr. Hedin is particularly looked forward to throughout his European journey among scientific circles as one having a special knowledge on Thibet. He very nearly succeeded in entering the forbidden city of Lhassa, being disguised as a Buddhist priest, but the guards of the sacred city were again able to prevent the entrance of the foreigner, and he had to return to his caravan, from which he had made a side excursion. The honor of evading the guards and penetrating the city belongs in these days to two ladies, Mrs. Rynkhart and Miss Thomson, who risked their lives in doing so. Lately we have had to record many extraordinary feats of paring on the part of ladies, particularly English, in out of the way regions of the world, and very rarely have women attempted anything in the way of exploration but what they have been able, if not to accomplish entirely, yet to make a highly creditable record.—From the Philadelphia Ledger.

Blood Wine Can be Sampled at Drug Stores Without Cost.

Remarkably Popular Remedy Commends Itself to Prominent Citizens.

In this age of competition it is well to be able to discriminate between the good and the bad of everything. It does not do to judge too much by appearances, for everything that glistens is not necessarily gold, or even silver, but in a great many instances simply old tin, polished up. It is hard to be mistaken when one first has an opportunity to make a thorough investigation and sample an article free of charge, before buying. This is the way the Louis Daudelin Co., of Worcester, Mass., have placed upon the market their celebrated French medical compound, "Blood Wine," and their earnest request is that everyone in ill health, to whose case their remedy is suited, shall take advantage of the privilege and satisfy himself that there are no misrepresentations, no extravagant promises, no misleading quotations and no false testimonials. The Daudelin people enjoy the respect and friendship of Massachusetts citizens and wherever else that they are known, and it is their desire to push this feeling of confidence and esteem to the four corners of the globe. Consequently "Blood Wine" bears the imprint of honor throughout.

In order that everyone may know exactly what he is buying and know just what to expect from every bottle of "Blood Wine," it is sold to every druggist with the understanding that he shall provide everyone calling, with a free sample. This enables you to test and investigate right here at home the workings of this remedy.

"Blood Wine" cures disease by beginning at the very foundation of the trouble. It undermines disease as readily as disease overcomes the normal conditions of the system. To cure any kind of disease it is necessary to commence on the vital fluid of the body—the blood. Any physician will tell you that the mortal never lived into whose flesh the germs of disease could creep when healthy blood flowed through the veins. Sores on the body, pimples and blotches are produced in the same way that sores on the lungs or in the kidneys or any other part of the body are brought on. What is consumption? Nothing but a sore, a pus-emitting, discharging sore, or mass of sores, which if you could see would remind you of any kind of disgusting sore. What causes it and what will cure it? The blood.

An impoverished, unhealthy corpuscleless blood produces all the ills that flesh is heir to. A rich, thick, healthy, active blood will cure them.

"That disease in the family has been handed down from generation to generation—it's in the blood," you hear people say and it's true.

If you don't rid yourself of a disease, you surely do hand it down to your children and grandchildren. "Blood Wine" has a wonderful medicinal characteristic. When you take it, it seems to pass immediately from the stomach to the blood. It mingles all through the veins and into the most remote parts of the body.

It searches out disease and heals a sore no matter whether outside or inside. It cures coughs, colds and consumption (excepting when the latter is in the most advanced stage). It cures kidney troubles. It puts them in a healthy condition, thus enabling them to do their work. It takes the pains out of your back, the lameness from your sides and feet. It cures stomach troubles and indigestion. When a person has difficulty in retaining the food, when he has nausea and vomiting after meals, when the bowels become sluggish and move only spasmodically, then unsatisfactorily, and the mouth is sticky, the saliva thick and the breath bad,—then is the time to take "Blood Wine" and receive almost instantaneous results. Women who need strength, who find difficulty in doing their housework, who feel all dragged out, whose cheeks are colorless and whose anaemic appearance bespeaks the absence of the healthy blood, will find "Blood Wine" a positive, never-failing cure. Rheumatism, muscular and articular, and all forms of neuralgia, shooting, darting pains, dull aches, that double up the fingers and twist and bulge the joints will be relieved by the prompt use of "Blood Wine." When you take this remedy you get right at the roots of the evil and become cured to stay cured. Probably no medicine ever sold has had as many enthusiastic admirers as "Blood Wine."

We ask you to write to anyone of them, make a personal investigation, ascertain for yourself that all said about "Blood Wine" is true.

"I find 'Blood Wine' a most remarkable medicine. It has cured me of a serious attack of nervous prostration that I thought would end my life and it has made me a strong healthy woman."—Mrs. A. B. Horton, Providence, R. I.

Anyone can take "Blood Wine." It's just as pleasant and palatable as a summer drink. No one would ever know from its innocent taste that it was such a powerfully aggressive opponent of disease. It contains no wine, no injurious drugs or opiates.

"As a never failing remedy for lung troubles, coughs, colds and catarrh I can truthfully say that 'Blood Wine' is the most reliable medicine I have ever tried. I say 'never failing' because I have yet to find the first case that it hasn't benefited. —B. A. Andrews, M. D., Beechmont, Boston, Mass.

"Blood Wine" costs fifty cents a bottle, but you can sample it free of charge at Pellens & Polster, Druggists.

WILLIAM SHONDELL FINED

FOUND GUILTY OF HAVING BEEN DRUNK.

Victim of Officer Dickson's Gun in Police Court—General News of the Police.

Judge Dreibelbiss was called to Bluffton this morning on legal business, but before going turned over the duty of dispensing justice at police court to Judge B. F. Harper, who acquired the title of judge by a similar procedure several weeks ago. The first part of Judge Harper's duties was easy. J. Sullivan, a plain drunk, was sent over for eleven days, and then came the redoubtable John Lew. John had been given an hour to get out of town yesterday morning, but he didn't know where to go to, so he stayed right here, where he will stay for sixteen more days, according to the way his case is figured out on the police record.

THE SHONDELL CASE.

These two easy ones being disposed of, Judge Harper began to experience what it is to go up against the real thing. The William Shondell case, several times postponed and continued, was up for final disposition. Shondell is the gentleman who got mixed up in a shooting scrape with Officer Dickson on the 30th day of last month, during which the officer found it necessary to try to stop him from running away by firing his revolver several times. Shondell was hit in the foot by a glancing bullet and after arrest was slated for drunkenness. At the trial this morning he had ex-Judge Louttit to represent him and tried to prove that he had not been intoxicated on the day in question. Officers Dickson, Huguenard, Lapp, Coling, Smith, Terry and others testified that the man was drunk when arrested, and Shondell testified that he wasn't—that, in fact, he could not remember of having drank over about five beers that morning, but admitted that he was in bad company and that the other fellows were drunk. Judge Louttit tried to show that a man could not get drunk on five glasses of beer, and during the argument said that police officers would swear to anything, which statement made Lieutenant Lapp's eyes bulge out of his face a quarter of a yard more or less. During the controversy between Judge Louttit and Deputy Prosecutor Emrick, each tried to prove by the other's record that neither knew what he was talking about. The trial judge, Harper, however, said he guessed the charge had been proved and assessed a fine of $1 and costs, amounting to $13, which, after a short delay, was paid. Shondell asks The Sentinel to say that he was never before arrested and that this was his first experience in police court, which statement is not denied by the police records.

POLICE NOTES.

Mayor Berghoff has issued an order directing the police department to enforce the order regarding the storing of boxes, barrels and crates on the sidewalks and directs attention to the condition of the sidewalk on Clinton street, between Main and Berry.

Marshal Friend, of Montpelier, Ind., was in the city last evening, trying to locate one Daniel Goodwin, who is wanted at Montpelier for forgery. He worked a funny paper racket on a man named Parker for $44 in good money, and now Mr. Parker would like to get a firm hold once more on the forty-four, and if not on the currency, on Mr. Goodwin. The aforesaid Mr. Goodwin is not known here.

Patrolman Kruskemberg last evening discovered a stray horse on Buchanan street and took him up. In this connection the police reporter of The Sentinel will state that the wear and tear incident to spelling out the new copper's name is wearing and that henceforth in these columns he will be known as Officer Kruek.

Miss Bessie Haller, of Lillie street, reports the loss of a pocketbook containing a small amount of money.

Mrs. Pierre Plantinga, of West Jefferson street, reports that someone stole a lawn mower from a shed on her premises on Sunday night.

BOOKS OF AN EARLY DATE.

An American excavating expedition engaged in operations at the ancient city of Nippur has recently unearthed documents that prove that ancient Babylon existed in a literary age and that there was no small amount of culture in the time of Abraham the patriarch. A library of clay books has been found which had already been lost and covered by the earth when Abraham was born.

They are in the shape of tablets, of which it is calculated there were more than 100,000. The inscriptions on them relate to all the various branches of knowledge and literature that were studied at the time. The chief cities of Babylonia all had these libraries of imperishable clay. A contemporaneous record of events had long been kept and an accurate system of dating had been invented. The discovery of these libraries and the facts for which they stand has an important bearing on old testament criticism and history. It disposes once and for all of the contention that no written documents of the Abrahamic age could have descended to later times. Palestine, at that period, was a sort of dependency of Babylon and Abraham when he moved westward, was simply entering another part of the Babylonian empire. So even in Canaan he was surrounded by the influences of Babylonian culture.

Another discovery, that of the site of the tower of Babel, is thought to have been made by a party of German excavators. It has usually been identified with the mount now called the Birs-i-Nimrud. But this was a mistake, for the Birs-i-Nimrud represents the temple not of Babylon, but of the neighboring town of Borsippa. The tower of Babel was undoubtedly the great tower attached to the temple of Biemerodach in Babylon itself. These same German excavators discovered the palace of Nebuchadnezzar, in which Alexander the Great died.

SUPREME COUNCIL MEETING

THE CATHOLIC BENEVOLENT LEAGUE OF INDIANA.

Officers and Delegates Canvass the Work of the Past Year—New Degree Adopted.

Officers of the supreme council of the Catholic Benevolent League of Indiana, together with delegates from each of the thirteen councils of the order, are in session at Knights of Columbus hall, holding the second annual convention of the fraternity. The session opened this morning, President John B. Mager, of Garrett, presiding.

Committees were appointed as follows: Mileage—H. J. Nichter, Fort Wayne; John H. Welch, Fort Wayne; Thomas A. Geraghty, Rushville. On Credentials—M. Marea, of Garrett; G. B. Fritz, Tipton; T. J. McLaughlin, Fort Wayne. Finance—H. A. Breckweg, Lafayette; H. F. Kinnerk, Fort Wayne; T. J. Geraghty, Rushville.

Following the appointment of the committees President Mager, Secretary J. F. Franke and Treasurer John J. Kohrman presented their reports. The order was established but two years ago, and it is having a steady, healthy growth, the increase in membership the past year having been twenty-five per cent. There is a fund of $13,000 in the treasury with which to meet death losses. But two deaths have occurred in the membership since the formation of the order, one of these having been due to accident.

A notable feature of today's session was the adoption of a second degree, which will be communicated to all councils. The degree is written by Thomas J. McLaughlin, of this city, orator of the supreme council, and was first exemplified last evening, when it was conferred upon a class of thirteen officers and delegates to the supreme council. It is said to be both impressive and beautiful, and Mr. McLaughlin is being warmly congratulated by the membership today.

The supreme council is considering the adoption of the fraternal congress rate as a basis for its insurance affairs, and this matter is likely to be submitted to the different councils for ratification.

Among the delegates present are W. H. McQueston, of Frankfort; G. B. Friz, Tipton; Herman B. Lodde, Lafayette; Ira Palmer, Sheldon; T. A. Geraghty, Rushville; M. Marea, Garrett; Anselm Bremerkamp, Decatur.

The sessions will be concluded late this afternoon.

THE NAME MADE PING PONG.

"The value of an odd, catchy name has never been more strikingly illustrated than in the game of ping pong," said an Englishman the other day. "Table tennis has been played in England for at least twenty years, and yet it never became a craze until some bright fellow simplified the rules somewhat and put the game on the market under the name of ping pong. At once it leaped into popular favor. Society took it up as a fad, and in this country people who have never heard of table tennis are becoming enthusiastic over it under the impression that it is something new. I suppose anything with a name like that could be boosted into popularity."

KNEW HE WAS FROM TEXAS.

"An unusually quiet sort of a chap was the new man in the office," said a railroad man recently, "and as he didn't seem disposed to take any of us into his confidence, we didn't question him much. A light southern flavor in what little he had to say led us to believe that he was from down that way somewhere, but we curbed our curiosity as to where he came from, at least as far as he was concerned, and took it out in speculating on it among ourselves. One day, when we were all digging into things on our desks, the tire on a bicycle in the rack outside burst with the report most of us were familiar with. Up jumps the new man, and rushing toward the door excitedly, shouts:

"'Somebody's shot!'

"When we told him what it was and quieted him down, I walked over to his desk and asked:

"'What part of Texas did you come from, sir?'

"'Beaumont,' he said. 'What made you think I came from Texas?'"

DR. WILLIAM M'COMB DEAD.

Dr. William McComb, [illegible]den, died quite suddenly this morning at the home of Eugene Cook, in Cedarville, where he had been visiting for several days. Dr. McComb was a sufferer from lung trouble, but his death was not thought to be imminent. This morning he was seized with a violent hemorrhage and died shortly after. Dr. McComb was about 35 years of age and leaves a widow and three children.

He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. James McComb, of Perry township, and the funeral services will be held from the father's residence Thursday at 1 o'clock.

WHY CROKER IS SILENT.

Croker achieved the boss-ship of Tammany by silence and ruled long by the masterly inactivity of his tongue, writes Victor Smith in the New York Press. Nixon is doing a good deal of talking. Croker had nothing to say and said it; Nixon has something to say and says it. I once interviewed Croker for two hours, and he did not say ten words that were worth publishing. Yet he liked me and was willing to talk. He is the greatest man I ever came in contact with, for, without education, without refinement, without culture, without a vocabulary, without talent, genius or brilliancy, he ruled a wild herd of cattle that contained some pretty brainy bulls and a lot of wild sucking calves.

I fancy that Croker talked little because his brain was so sluggish. Then, again, his astonishing elevation rendered him cautious when he became custodian of the damnable and damning secrets of the inner Tammany ring and the principal keeper of its finances. Are we going to let Croker die with his mouth shut?

OBEYED THE URGENT CALL.

Like other professional men, physicians are sometimes overworked and are glad of an excuse for escape from further demands upon their energies. After dinner one very disagreeable night last week a certain Wabash avenue physician, looking from his office window and seeing the rain beat against the glass, decided that he would have a quiet, uninterrupted evening at home. He was soon in his house coat, a novel in his hand and tobacco smoke curling around him. About 10 o'clock someone rang the doorbell.

"The doctor is wanted right away at ——" began the caller.

"He can't go, sir," answered the servant, quickly. "He left word that he was not well and that unless it was a case of life or death he would not venture out."

"Well, you tell him he must come over; we need him to sit in a poker game."

"Oh, you're Mr. B., are you? Step in, please, and I'll see."

A minute later the servant reappeared with: "The doctor says he'll be right over."

The ladies of the south side section of the Wayne street M. E. church will be entertained Wednesday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. B. W. Vesey, 32 Maple avenue.

A case of diphtheria is reported at 2218 Force street.

DOG KNEW HIS MASTER.

A bulldog was brought before justice yesterday and both the dog and the blind goddess profited by the meeting. In one scale was claim of the dog's last owner; in the other that of his newest master. Justice Martin called the dog to the witness stand and asked it which of the scales was the heavier. The dog wasn't long in deciding. It showed its teeth to its newest master and wagged its tail fondly to the last owner. Justice Martin then ordered the bailiff to turn the dog over to Edward Smith, of 55 Wells street, but the dog, waiting for no formal transfer, jumped into its lost master's lap. Then Edward Ebinger, who had cared for the dog for the last fourteen months, went dogless to his home in Fullerton avenue. The dog was brought into court on a writ of replevin. Fourteen months ago Trude, for that is the animal's name, although Thug might seem more appropriate, wandered from its home of five years and finally appeared at Ebinger's house. There it seemed contented to remain till yesterday, when Smith located it, and Constable Spiro was sent to bring the dog into court. Spiro took one look at the dog, then attached it to a long pole and marched it to Justice Martin's court. Ebinger made no objection, except that he refused to part with the dog until convinced that Smith was the rightful owner. The dog gave its testimony, which was corroborated by Frank Kenedy, who said he and the dog were old friends, having met often at Smith's restaurant.—Chicago Tribune.

SILENT FORTY YEARS.

At the home of Messrs. When he was torn from her side she vowed never to speak until he was restored to her, and though many years have passed and the custom of selling human beings has been abolished, she still keeps her vow. "Aunt Susan," as she is called, is now between 60 and 70 years of age.—Harrodsburg (Ky.) Herald.

PASSED THE WORK AROUND

THREE PAVING MATERIALS GIVEN PLACE.

Maumee Avenue Goes to Rock Asphalt, Main Street to Brick and Buchanan to Trinidad.

The board of works met yesterday afternoon and held a long and interesting session, the business being principally confined to the disposition of street paving matters. The streets considered yesterday were Main street, west of St. Mary's river; Maumee avenue, from Harmer street to Walton avenue; Columbia street, from Calhoun to Barr; all of Maiden lane, and the consideration of the material selection for Buchanan street, from Hanna to Winter. The disposition of the bids was precisely as outlined in The Sentinel last evening, and in detail the bids were as follows:

Maumee avenue—

C. E. Moellering & Co.: Metropolitan block, $6.00 per lineal foot; Mack repressed block, $5.95; 3-inch asphalt block, $10.25; 4-inch asphalt block, $10.80; Harris paver, (no guarantee) $6.30.

Derheimer & Co.: Metropolitan block, $7.49; Harris paver, (no guarantee) $7.00; Mack repressed block, $7.43.

Western Construction Co.: Sheet asphalt, $7.76.

Barber Asphalt Paving Co.: Genuine Trinidad Sheet Lake asphalt, $7.73.

Interstate Construction Co.: Kentucky Federal Rock asphalt, $6.96.

Columbia street—Brick:

C. E. Moellering & Co., Metropolitan, $1.64 per square yard; Derheimer & Co., $1.88 per square yard for same material. Contract to Moellering & Co. unless protested.

West Main street—Brick:

C. E. Moellering & Co., Metropolitan block, $1.64; Mack block, $1.65; three-inch asphalt block, $2.59; four-inch asphalt block, $2.64. These bids include a new concrete foundation. For laying pavement on the old foundation now under the cedar block the bids are as follows: Metropolitan block, $1.34; Mack block, $1.35; three-inch asphalt block, $2.29; four-inch asphalt block, $3.34.

Derheimer & Co., concrete foundation, Metropolitan block, $1.88; Harris paver, $1.64; Mack block, $1.86; old foundation, $1.54, $1.32 and $1.52 for the same material.

Western Construction company, sheet asphalt, $1.90.

Barber Asphalt company, Trinidad asphalt, $1.86.

Interstate Construction company, $1.78.

Metropolitan block selected and contract goes to Moellering unless successfully protested.

Maiden lane—Asphalt:

The bid of the Barber Asphalt Paving company is $5.17 per lineal foot; that of the Western Construction company $5.28, and that of the Interstate Construction company $5.20. Trinidad asphalt selected and contract will go to the Barber Asphalt company unless protested.

Buchanan street—Asphalt:

The board, after considering the controversy on the selection of material for paving that street, reversed its former decision and said that after carefully examining into the matter with the assistance of able counsel, the conclusion had been arrived at that the petition of the Barber asphalt advocates was legal and that the contract would be warded to that company.

The board had previously considered the bids for furnishing street corner signs, but arrived at no conclusion. Further investigation will be made regarding the durability of the various kinds of sings bid upon and it is likely that at the meeting on Thursday night a conclusion will have been reached. There was no other material business presented and then the board adjourned.

OBJECTIONS ARE HEARD.

Referring to the bids for street paving opened yesterday, last evening's Sentinel stated that after the opening of the bids would come the fireworks, and the pyrotechnic display has already commenced. The two squares on Columbia street were awarded to brick and against this proposition there is a vigorous howl. Among the principal objectors to brick pavement on Columbia street, between Calhoun and Barr, it is stated that J. W. Bell, DeWald & Co., M. F. Kaag, Rothschild Bros., H. J. Ash, B. F. Noll, Horace Marriotte, Fisher Bros. and others have already signified their objection and indicated a preference for asphalt. On West Main street a similar state of affairs exists and the asphalt interests have their agents at work there and are getting liberal support. The question is one for the property owners themselves to decide and to the casual observer it looks as though they intend to do it. A prominent asphalt promoter said to The Sentinel this afternoon that he thought he would have the necessary two-thirds of property owners on West Main street signed up before tomorrow night.

CITY HALL NOTES.

The board of works this morning made another inspection tour through the southern part of the South Wayne sewer to determine what further reconstruction will be necessary.

The Southwestern Traction company is progressing rapidly with the work of grading Fulton street, irrespective of the injunction suits now pending. The grading of the street has been completed nearly as far as Main street and two concrete machines have got the concrete work across the Wabash tracks on Fairfield avenue.

Vanderford heirs have taken out a permit to build an addition to a house on Elm street at a cost of $250; Winnifred J. Randall, two houses on Hayden street, $2,800; Mrs. Longacre, remodel house on Garden street, $250; Joseph Mattes, shop and dwelling house on Calhoun street, $2,500; Gust Ludwig, house on Knitters avenue, $1,200; John Mooney, two houses on Buchanan street, $1,600; Julius Schwabe, house on Hugh street, $1,500.

The city council will meet this evening in regular session and an interesting session is expected, although it is not likely that the committee of the whole will make any report on the traction company matter, farther than to ask for farther time.

ECLECTICS' SESSIONS OPEN

STATE ASSOCIATION CONVENED TODAY.

Nearly a Hundred Physicians Attend—Feeble Minded Home Visited This Afternoon.

Owing to the failure of a number of delegates to arrive at the appointed hour for opening, the opening meeting of the Indiana Eclectic Medical association was delayed until this afternoon. There were nearly a hundred present, however, this afternoon, when the roll was called and quite a number of visitors occupied seats in the assembly room of the court house, where the sessions are being held.

Mayor Berghoff made a brief address, welcoming the physicians to Fort Wayne, and the response was delivered by Dr. Morse Harrod. President O. S. Coffin, of Carthage, made his annual address, which was followed by the transaction of some minor business matters.

The following papers were read: "Peritonitis," by Dr. J. S. Coffman, Muncie; "Osteo-sarcoma," by Dr. Henry Long, of Indianapolis; "Typhoid Fever," by Dr. J. L. Smith, of Hoagland; "Hysteria," by Dr. W. B. Olds, of Converse; "Criminology," by Dr. Lila Brown, of Terre Haute; "Circumcision," by Dr. J. D. McCann, of Monticello. The reading of each paper was followed by a discussion.

Shortly after 4 o'clock the delegates boarded a special car and were taken to the Home for Feeble Minded Children and shown over the institution by Superintendent Johnson.

THE MARKETS.

Chicago, May 13.—Wheat traders early in the session today put a bullish interjection on the government crop report of the winter wheat condition. Much dissatisfaction, however, was expressed by some experts and bears at once began to argue against its value. The condition of 76.04 on May 1 as against 78.7 April 1 was not as low as had been expected and any bullish effect on this score had already been discounted. But the reduction of the winter area of 4,568,000 acres by plowing up or abandoning the fields was larger than has been expected and started considerable buying at better prices. On the other hand speculators were saying that had the recent rains in the southwest been taken into consideration the condition would have been reported much improved. It was readily argued that even if the report showed a marked decrease of acreage under last year the condition indicated a larger harvesting area than any other time prior to last year. Under these variant influences July wheat opened ¼@⅜c to ½@⅝c higher at 76⅛c to 76¼c and speedily sold up to 76⅜@76½c. Then the bears began selling and prices broke to last night's closing figures, 75¾@75⅞c for July. Cables were indifferent, but there were continued rains northwest and July advanced again under fair buying to 76⅛@76⅜c, where it steadied. The Illinois state report indicated a condition of 88 with an area of 1,700,000 acres and 9 per cent of old wheat in farm hands. Local receipts were small at 58 cars, 10 of contract grade. Minneapolis and Duluth reported only 65 cars, making a total for the three points of 123 cars, against 151 last week and 220 a year ago.

During the late part of the session wheat fluctuated irregularly. There was some northwest selling and July sagged to 75½@75¾c, but 2,734,000 bushels reduction in the world's visible supply had a helping effect and after nervously haggling on the government report July closed firm, ⅜c up, at 76⅜@76½c.

July corn opened ⅛c to ¼c up at 62½c to 62⅝c on firm cables and the wheat influence. Trade was fair and the July options sold to 62⅞c on the bad weather northwest. The Illinois state report stated that the corn reserves were only 39,000,000 bushels—the smallest since 1890. Many of the corn traders were waiting to see what turn wheat would take. Receipts were 121 cars.

Corn continued as a scalping affair most of the session working against a bearish mood and helped by wheat. July closed ½c higher at 62⅞c.

Oats were quiet, but showed good strength on a fair demand both for old and new July. The strength in other grains had an influence in this pit. July new opened ¼@⅝c up at 37½c, advanced ½c and steadied near the opening figures. Receipts were 230 cars.

Provisions showed marked strength on the stronger tone in the hog market at the yards and on packers' support. Pork was the center of attraction and drew other products after it. July pork opened unchanged to 2½c up at $17.42½ to $17.50, advanced to $17.55 and steadied at $17.47½; July lard started 2½c to 5c higher at $10.27½@10.30 and sold at $10.32½, and July ribs 2½@5c up at $9.65 to $9.67½ and sold at $9.70.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, May 13.—London sent higher prices for American stocks this morning, but the market here ignored this initiative and opened irregular. The changes were small and the trading dull. On the side of losses Delaware and Hudson and Sugar suffered to the extent of a point. Changes otherwise were restricted to fractions throughout.

Some of the high-priced stocks which were liquidated yesterday were sold again, Northwestern dropping 5 and General Electric 3. Some of the active stocks of each group declined in sympathy but offerings were small. Colorado Fuel, St. Louis Southwestern preferred, Lake Erie and Western, St. Louis and San Francisco and Fort Worth and Denver City stamped lost a point each and Louisville and Metropolitan Street Railway gained 1. The grangers were bought later, Northwestern rallying 4 and Rock Island advancing 1½. This demand helped many stocks and there were general recoveries to above yesterday's close. Pittsburg, C., C. & St. Louis rose 1⅞ and Delaware and Hudson, Canadian Pacific, Colorado Fuel, Tennessee Coal and Manhattan rose 1 to 2⅝ over yesterday.

The improvement in the active quarter was stopped by realizing in St. Paul and Louisville and a decline in sympathy again to the lowest. Other stocks did not yield to the low level of the first hour and there were a few minor properties that showed strength. General Electric recovered a point, Iowa entral preferred, Wisconsin Central, Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault Ste Marie and Long Island gained 1@1½ and Chicago, Indianapolis and Louisville 2⅞. Business was in lighter volume than for many weeks. The whole market rose again to the best on light transactions.

Bonds were steady at noon.

RIBBON BOWS FORBIDDEN.

One of the mildest, most ladylike little hazes on record in college circles took place at Bernard the other day. It was decided by the sophomores that the freshmen could no longer be allowed to wear the little black ribbon bows which all sorts and conditions of women are adding to their coiffures this spring. One of the sophomores was deputized to carry the decree into effect. She went about among the freshmen, and whenever she saw a black bow disfiguring the head she with unsmiling dignity promulgated the decree.

The net result of the harvest was twenty-eight little black bows. These were placed on the bulletin-board in the freshmen's study room, each one impaled upon a pin, like an entomological specimen, with the announcement that each freshman could have her own property to take home, but that she would not be allowed to wear it in the future.

The joke of the whole thing was the solemnity of its carrying out. There was a subtle humor in the gravity of the sophomores and the unquestioning, half-scared obedience of the freshmen. The sophomore who collected the bows says she thinks most of the victims took her for the dean of the college, or at least for a person deputized by President Butler to effect the change.—New York Tribune.

DOROTHEA DIX'S WORK.

In a few weeks there is to be celebrated in the little town of Hampden, Me., the centenary of the birth of Dorothea Lynde Dix.

How many people in America know anything of her or her work? Her work can be summed up in a few words, but its influence can never be estimated.

First That for child-saving, which was begun in the Warren street chapel, Boston, still the mission center of the city.

Second—Her herculean labors to get proper treatment for the insane in state institutions, and she rested not until she saw fine insane hospitals of her own creation rise in nearly every state of the union.

Third—Her work as superintendent of nurses during the civil war, for which, at its close, Secretary Stanton offered her any emolument she might ask. The thing that she did ask was the flag of her country. A stand of the colors in silk was accordingly ordered for her and officially presented, and these flags were bequeathed in her will to Harvard college. They hang today in Memorial hall near the tablets to the memory of some of the very soldiers she had tenderly nursed.—New York Mail and Express.

THE TERRORS OF DYSPEPSIA.

Nothing Easier to Dispose of, Once the Secret Is Out.

The terrors of dyspepsia—it's unnecessary to describe them. Nine men out of ten are intimately acquainted with them, and are only too thankful when they don't have to think of them all of the time. Someone has described dyspepsia as a disease that dogs its victim through life with fiendish malignity, playing with him as a cat does a mouse, but never making an end of him. It tortures without killing him. But not always—it won't do to be sure of even that much. Those who have strong constitutions can bear up for a time under the wearing tortures of nervous dyspepsia, but dyspepsia gradually brings on catarrh, catarrh brings on consumption, and consumption is merely another term for that grim destroyer, death. It does not pay to trifle with dyspepsia—it don't pay to deceive yourself with a false feeling of security. Peptorene, the Health Tablet, is for ailing stomachs. It cures dyspepsia, and brings tonic relief to the poor, jaded nerves of the stomach, gives new life to the dormant tissues of the liver, and relieves the bowels of its congested load of poison. It acts as a combined tonic and a natural aid to digestion. If you want a medicine that will give quick relief to even an advanced case of dyspepsia call for a box of Peptorene.

MEET AT SAENGERBUND HALL AND ORGANIZE.

A series of tests for hauling capacity is being made on the western division of the Nickel Plate with engine 119, one of the new Brooks locomotives. The first test was made yesterday, when the engine took a 1,500 ton train from this city to Chicago in eight hours and thirty minutes and did it with the greatest of ease. No special effort was made in the direction of speed, the object being more to test the pulling powers of the engine and its ability to maintain a steady and stipulated schedule, such as is required in the regular freight business. The train was made up of forty coal cars, all loaded to their full capacity. Motive Power Superintendent John McKinzie was on the engine a good portion of the time, taking notes of her work. Superintendent S. K. Blair and Trainmaster D. H. Caldwell also accompanied the train. The train was in charge of Conductor Maxwell, with Engineer Michael McCarthy and Fireman Vin Kohlman in the cab. The same engine and crew are bringing a 1,600 ton train down from Chicago today, and the same schedule as that of yesterday is being maintained. The average speed, including all stops for water, fuel, passing trains, etc., is about eighteen miles per hour.

CHANGE IN REGULATIONS.

The Pennsylvania Voluntary Relief association for the lines west of Pittsburg has amended regulations 17 and 42 in accordance with the recommendations of the board of directors and to the satisfaction of a certain class of employes. By these amendments no employe will be required to become a member of the relief and a member disabled by sickness may, with the consent of the medical examiner, be permitted to return to duty "on trial" pending full recovery. If such return to duty is before title to benefits for fifty-two weeks is exhausted, any subsequent disablement by sickness shall be counted with the prior one in computing the fifty-two weeks for which payment of benefits may be made and the deduction of six days shall not be made therefrom; if such return to duty is after title to benefits for fifty-two weeks is exhausted, he shall, from the date of such return, make contribution at the rate of 20 cents per class for each class of membership, in addition to the proper death benefit rate, and shall be entitled to benefits for disablement or death from accident, or death from natural cause, but not for disablement from sickness, occurring thereafter.

A PROSPEROUS LODGE.

Fort Wayne lodge, No. 136, Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, entertained Second Vice Grand Master Dodge last Sunday and was congratulated by that gentleman upon its remarkable prosperity and growth, both in a financial and numerical sense. Two initiations were made Sunday, F. C. Cole and V. D. Rice, which brought the total membership up to 209, the highest point in the history of the local lodge. The affairs of this lodge are in good hands, which accounts in a measure for its prosperous condition.

FREIGHT TRAFFIC HEAVY.

The item in The Sentinel last evening, regarding the traffic conditions of the Pennsylvania, was in part misleading, inasmuch as it gave the impression that the freight business of the company was falling off very material. Supt. J. B. McKim says there has been no appreciable decrease in the volume of business on the western division of the road, nor is there any likelihood of a reduction in the number of engine crews. Not only has there been no abatement in the business, Mr. McKim said, but the ratio of increase over last year is being maintained. The item in question created an uneasiness among the enginemen, particularly those recently promoted, for which no good grounds exist.

G. C. DEHNE HERE.

A welcome caller at the Pittsburg shops this morning was G. C. Dehne, who was employed there for several years. Mr. Dehne is now private secretary to General Superintendent J. H. Barrett, of the Chicago and Alton road, with headquarters in Chicago. He is in the city for a short visit with [illegible]

When you awake in the night choked up and coughing hard, take a dose of the Emulsion, and you will get immediate relief, where no cough medicine will give you relief. It has a soothing and healing effect upon the throat and bronchial tubes.

MAY CHOOSE PUT-IN-BAY.

The Wabash shopmen seem to be divided upon the question of an excursion point. A committee representing each department of the shop, composed of W. F. Yergens, chairman; Charles Newell, Henry Starke, James Olive, J. Ryan, R. Pettit and James Murray, has the matter in hand and will render a decision tonight. Detroit was suggested as the most available point, but a canvass of the shops indicates a preference for Put-in-Bay and that place may be decided upon.

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATIONS.

Henry Heibler, a blacksmith who has charge of the spring fire in the Wabash shops, was pleasantly surprised last evening in honor of his thirty-fourth birthday anniversary. The evening was devoted to card playing, followed at 12 o'clock by luncheon. Mrs. H. Heibler and Mr. J. Palmer won the first prizes and Miss Mina Hershman and Michael Hausbach were awarded second prize. Among the guests were about twenty of Mr. Heibler's shopmates, which attested to the popularity of the gentleman among the people who know him best.

The other surprise party was in honor of the twenty-ninth birthday anniversary of James Olive, a machinist at the Wabash shops, and also a popular and very worthy young man. Mr. Oliver was in the act of leaving his West DeWald street home for a trip down town, when [illegible] on him unawares. There were twelve couples in the party and they were out for a good time and had it. After the greetings had been made and Mr. Olive had regained composure, the spokesman of the party made the presentation of the presents to the hosts. There was good music and good cheer on all sides and never did a party enjoy a more pleasant gathering. The affair was given under the auspices of the White Carnation club, of which Mr. Olive is a member.

SHIPPING MACHINERY.

Three car loads of machinery left the Bass works this morning. One was consigned to Lowell, Mass., another to Parkersburg, W. Va., and the third to Girard, O.

GOULD'S PLANS DEFINED.

A correspondent writing from Baltimore explains George Gould's plans for extending the Wabash to the Atlantic ocean in a manner both succinct and comprehensible when he says: "The Maryland and Pennsylvania, which the Wabash will purchase, parallels the Pennsylvania railroad from Baltimore to York, Pa., a distance of eighty miles. The road is well built and is still undergoing extensive improvements. The Baltimore and Pennsylvania has the right to use the Baltimore and Ohio Belt Line, which will give to the Wabash access to all the important wharves and shipping points in the city and manufactories thereabouts. This deal on the part of Mr. Gould is second only in importance to the acquisition of the Western Maryland road."

CUTTING OUT THE DRINKS.

The railway officials who comprise the St. Louis Railway association, with a view of eliminating objectionable features of the Sunday excursion traffic as far as possible, have decided to prohibit the sale of intoxicating liquors on the excursion trains. Hereafter excursion and picnic parties who charter a train will not be allowed to conduct a bar en route. Refreshments will be hauled in the baggage car to destination, but only soft drinks will be allowed on the train.

DENOUNCE THE SCHEME.

The Grand Rapids Press last Saturday had the following to say concerning a matter that was mentioned in these columns last Thursday: "Local railroad men are considerably stirred up over a recent invading of the town by men who claimed to be connected with the United Brotherhood of Railway Employes, and whom they believe are associated with that order. They have turned out a large number of booklets for local railway men to use as time cards, but the local men will not use them, because the United Brotherhood of Railway Employes is an order which is antagonistic to the five great railway orders of the country, with which most railroad men are allied, the Order of Railroad Conductors, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and the Order of Telegraphers. The men who came here represented, it seems, to the Grand Rapids merchants, that local men were to use these cards, and in that way secured plenty of advertising. B. B. Evans, of the Grand Rapids and Indiana railway, and a member of the Order of Railway Conductors, says there is no lodge of the United Brotherhood of Railway Employes here, and that there is none in the state and that merchants have been victimized."

JAY M'CRACKEN RETURNS.

Cashier J. J. McCracken, of the Pittsburg freight department, arrived home last evening, after a six weeks sojourn in Texas. His coming at this time was a surprise to his friends, as it was supposed that he would spend a week or more in Colorado. The southern trip was not in the least disappointing to Mr. McCracken and he comes home much improved in health. It is not known just when he will resume his office duties.

THE DYERS ORGANIZE.

The most important development of the day in the strike situation at the Wayne Knitting mills is the organization of a dyers union, which was effected last evening by the committee from the Central Federation of Labor. The meeting took place at Saengerbund hall and there were several speeches and considerable enthusiasm displayed. Application for a charter has been made to the United Textile Workers of America. The local lodge elected the following officers: President, J. Lobdale; vice president, F. Martin; secretary, H. Peters; treasurer, E. Croom. Other than the foregoing there is nothing new to report in the situation.

NEW MAN IN CASTING ROOM.

Ernest Kaiser, who has been promoted at the Electric works, has been succeeded by Daniel Benz in the casting department. The latter was formerly employed in the Pittsburg freight house. Other new men at the works are Philip Conway and Harry Bouk, in the lamp department; William Schram and William VanBuskirk, in the shipping department.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

Machinist Boseker, of the Electric works, is sick and off duty.

Fred Arnold took a position at the Bass smith shop this morning.

Machinist Frank Saffen, of the Bass works, is sick and off duty.

James O'Connell, of the Pittsburg freight office, is confined to his home by an attack of the grip.

Master Mechanic Theodore M. Kucher, of the Toledo, Peoria and Western road, was in the city yesterday.

Switch engine 221 has gone to the shops for general repairs and engine 117 has been sent here to do yard duty in the meantime.

General Roadmaster A. B. Adams, of the Wabash, was in the city yesterday looking over the several improvements that are in progress here.

Conductor S. A. Noble resumed his duties on the Nickel Plate yesterday after a two weeks' lay-off to get his cottage at Rome City in summer shape.

Harry Huston, a dispatcher, and Fred Tielker, night baggagemaster, of the Pittsburg, went down to Piercetown this morning in a piscatorial way.

Watchman Daniel Bevelheimer resumed charge of the Fairfield avenue crossing of the Pittsburg this morning. He had been in Elkhart to attend a funeral of a relative. Fred Stebig, recently transferred to the police department of the Pittsburg, has been made crossing watchman at the College street crossing.

The Wabash is expecting to bring in two big crowds here next Sunday, one from Detroit and one from Lafayette.

Brakemen E. W. Parks and H. W. Croxell, the former of the Grand Rapids and the latter of the Pennsylvania, are sick and off duty.

The Janice Meredith company, which played at the Temple last night, left over the Grand Rapids and Indiana road for Kalamazoo this morning.

W. S. Danes, bridge and building superintendent of the Wabash, is in the city inspecting the several improvements that are under way in his department.

Machinists of the Canadian Pacific have demanded an increase in wages. They threaten to strike and will not accept arbitration. Their average pay is now 20 cents an hour.

George Jacob Reiber, of the Pittsburg car machine shop, sailed from Bremen for America on the 6th inst. and is expected home the latter part of this week. He left Fort Wayne on March 13.

The railroad branch of the Y. M. C. A. at Columbus, O., Sunday celebrated the twenty-sixth anniversary of the organization. Hon. L. S. Coffin, of Fort Dodge, Ia., delivered the principal address.

Arthur Reid, of the tool room at the Bass shops, passed the cigars among his shopmates this morning, accompanying each smoker with the information that "It's a boy." This is the first son in the family.

O. Logan has been transferred from the round house to the road service on the Nickel Plate and is now a fireman. M. J. Grennan, formerly of the Pittsburg road, has taken a position as fireman on the Nickel Plate.

A box car is serving as an oil house and car inspectors' storeroom at the Wabash depot at present. The oil house is being moved to a point about fifty feet east of its former site in order to make room for the new water tanks.

George E. Becker, local agent for the Adams Express company, and his family, arrived home this morning from Ohio, where they were the guests of Mr. Becker's parents for two weeks. The old couple celebrated their golden wedding a week ago and all of the children were present.

The latest report is that the Norfolk and Western, a Pennsylvania line, will get the Detroit Southern road. The road is a combination of the Detroit, Lima and Springfield and the Ohio Southern, and crosses Ohio in almost a direct line from the lakes to the Ohio river. Its control would enable the Norfolk and Western to send coal through to the lakes.

When the Pennsylvania company puts its summer time card in effect, it will include a new train between Chicago and Louisville, which will haul the sleepers for northern Michigan, between Louisville and Logansport. At the latter place the sleepers will be transferred to the Eel River road and taken to LaOtto, where they will be transferred to the Grand Rapids and Indiana road. Before the company assumed charge of the Eel River line the Louisville-Michigan business was via Richmond and Fort Wayne. The new route is twenty-six miles shorter than the old.

Nicholas Snyder, who recently resigned as fireman at Rhinesmith & Simonson's factory, this morning took a position in the Pittsburg lumber yards.

Michael Lordier, the plumber, is in Decatur, where he has taken a contract in his line of trade.

F. G. Conrady, who had a finger hurt several days ago, reported for duty at the Pittsburg planing mills this morning.

C. C. Pearson, of the Pittsburg copper shop, may resign that position and engage in business. He is off duty today negotiating for a cigar stand with every prospect of a deal.

Night Yardmaster Arthur Hicks, of the Pittsburg, reported for duty last night, releasing Earl Repine, who will return to his duties as switchman. Mr. Hicks had been sick about a week.

Foreman Hugh T. Hogan, of the Pittsburg machine shop, resumed charge in that place this morning. He was called to Indianapolis on company's business last week and later ran down to Bedford to spend a day with his daughter, Mrs. Gus Steiglitz, who resides in that city.

C. C. Dudenhafer and Theodore Kress are sick; H. W. Arlin has the neuralgia; John P. Rost, C. C. Pearson and John Kaiser are looking after private business and H. W. Brockman, C. G. Volz, J. H. Neff and E. J. Hudry are absent for reasons not given. They are Pittsburg shopmen.

Peter Bott, the oil house keeper at the Pittsburg shops, wears a countenance more radiant than the headlights for which he has been supplying oil for a number of years. He is the papa of a son who weighs twelve pounds, and who is just as pretty as he is heavy. This news was accompanied by several boxes of cigars at the Pittsburg shops and as Papa Bott receives the congratulations of his shopmates he hands out cigars.

T. O. GASAWAY, M. D., The Reliable Specialist.
(Established 1897.)

I CURE (TO STAY CURED)

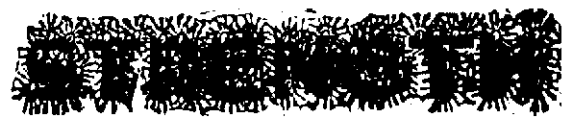
Varicocele, Nervous Debility, Blood Poison and all Vital Weaknesses and Diseases of Men.

VARICOCELE is one of the most prevalent, insidious and serious diseases. The cause is stagnation of blood in the veins, first sign an itching and dragging weight. It is known to the medical profession as a great menace to body and mind. It steals your vitality, robs you of your mental faculties, destroys your ambition. If not cured may end in [illegible] and death; you must be cured.

DO NOT DESPAIR! Rouse Yourself and Be a Man.

Consult a Specialist who will positively cure you. Delays are dangerous—Tomorrow may be too late.

Dr. Gasaway's Treatment MEANS



(To the Nervous and Circulatory System.)

VARICOCELE

Nervous Blood and Skin Diseases, Cured to Stay Cured.

Associate Diseases.

In curing a disease of any kind I never fail to remove all reflex complications. If the case is Varicocele, the weakness caused by it disappears. If it is Stricture, and has developed into Prostatic, Bladder or Kidney affections, the injured organs are all restored to a perfectly healthy condition. If it is contagious Blood Poison, Any and all Skin, Blood and Bone diseases arising from the taint are entirely and permanently eliminated from the system. If it is Nervous Debility, the many distressing symptoms following in its train and indicating a premature decline of physical and mental power are totally removed and rapidly replaced by the youthful energy of robust manhood. Hence all resulting ills and reflex complications which may be properly termed associate diseases, and which in fact are often more serious than the original ailment that gives rise to them—all, I say—disappear completely and forever with the cure of the main malady.

A Fair Proposition.

When I tell you that I have a positive cure for Nervous Diseases, Varicocele and all Pelvic diseases, and offer to prove to you by documental evidence, that is backed by over 1,000 living testimonials, have you the right to disbelieve the statement without investigating its truth? Is not your health and future happiness worthy of your time and trouble to substantiate the truth of my assertions? When I offer you a thorough personal examination FREE, and then explain to you how I can cure you, how long it will take and how much it will cost you, is it not worth the effort to call, or, if you are out of the city, to write me in detail, giving an exact description of your trouble and its present advancement? You will receive by return mail a correct diagnosis of your ailment free. Undoubtedly you have never been examined by a specialist, one who can correctly and minutely explain in simple language your exact condition.

EXCURSIONISTS NUMBER 424

BIG CROWD OF SHOPPERS IN FROM THE SOUTH.

Special Train on Lake Erie Comes in Heavily Loaded—One From North Tomorrow.

The shoppers' low-rate excursion from the south this morning was the largest yet brought to the city by Promoter Taylor, and a total of 424 passengers alighted from a special train on the Lake Erie and Western today.

The train started from Bluffton with 225 passengers, and the balance of the crowd was picked up at intervening stations. Rain was falling as the train left Bluffton, but the low rate proved attractive and the unfavorable weather in no wise interfered with the size of the crowd.

Tomorrow another excursion will be brought in from the north over the Lake Shore, starting from Waterloo, and it is expected that at least 300 people will come to the city.

The closing reception of the Taylor dancing academy will be given in Knights of Columbus hall Tuesday evening, June 3.

"IN WHAT COMPANY SHALL I INSURE?"

The Editor of the United States Trade Reports Answers This Important Question and Gives an Intelligent Opinion.

The United States Trade Reports is a trade journal published at Cincinnati, Ohio. In its editorial columns there recently appeared an opinion entitled, "IN WHAT COMPANY SHALL I INSURE?" The opinion is not a paid article and The Sentinel is pleased to publish it in full as the company referred to is represented here by Mr. C. B. Fitch, 727 Clinton street.

IN WHAT COMPANY SHALL I INSURE?

So many have written us, asking us to tell them plainly which company is the best to insure in that we have been investigating the matter thoroughly.

To thousands of readers of this paper the above question will no doubt be of interest. It is intended, however, that the information herein contained shall, in keeping with the general policy of this paper, be of real practical value to each reader, and especially those who intend to protect their loved ones. To the latter a question of considerable importance is, "Which is the best company to insure in?" We appreciate fully the great difficulty the ordinary business man finds in obtaining a truthful and correct answer to that question.

In the first place, he himself is not acquainted with the relative methods of the various companies, and therefore can not decide for himself. Second, he can not rely upon the opinions of others, as they, like himself, may be unacquainted with the merits of the other companies, or be prejudiced in favor of the one he is insured in, or have a selfish interest, by means of a commission from an agent in making his recommendation. Third, he can not take his choice by reading printed circulars of companies, since one and all believe they are right and justified in saying so, and claim their respective plans as the very best.

Fourth, he can not expect to have his question answered by any journal devoted to this line, because in doing so such journal would commit financial suicide since all companies except the one given the first place as best would withdraw their advertising patronage. He could, of course, receive from any such paper an opinion, couched in the non-committal terms, "Such a company is one of the best." As this answer would apply in turn to all, the information thereby obtained would be of no benefit.

We write advisedly upon this point, having conducted a most searching examination of almost all life insurance companies, studying their various forms of contracts and tables of rates, their annual statements and detailed reports. As our efforts to serve our readers by giving the plain facts without the slightest touch of prejudice were made known without the knowledge of any life insurance company's officials or agents whose statements, figures and contracts were under examination, the fairness of the investigation can not be questioned, nor the value of this report estimated too highly, for this is probably the first time a trades magazine of standing and influence has gone into the matter in a thoroughly practical and unprejudiced manner. As a result of this investigation, we unhesitatingly assert that the best company in which to insure is The National Life Insurance Co., Montpelier, Vt.

The policies of this company display many features whose excellence render a special mention of the same a matter that can not fairly be ignored. This company recognizes life insurance as an unavoidable duty to one's family; but a man's duty to protect his family by its policy fixes axiomatically the company's duty to make that policy secure to them beyond all question just so far as the premiums he pays will permit, and there is no element of speculation in the contract which may cause the loss by them of any part of their protection. The company's economy is proverbial, and it seeks new business only on a favorable basis. It prosecutes absolutely legitimate life insurance best adapted to its only legitimate purpose—family protection—by equitable contracts, free from speculation, with the greatest care and economy, on a more conservative basis as to solvency than any other company, backed by a financial strength at least unsurpassed. It aims to give absolute family protection, with absolute certainty and equity at the lowest attainable cost consistent with reliable insurance. It offers no ingenious, speculative, and therefore tempting novelties in the name of life insurance. We do not call attention to these significant features in a spirit of detraction of other reputable life insurance companies, but upon its own high merits alone we bestow the praise justly due.

In consequence, we unhesitatingly advise our correspondents and all who are interested to insure in this company in preference to all others.

PUNY CHILDREN

Parents Should Know How to Keep Children Well.

Vinol of Great Assistance.

We do not wish to blame any of our friends for that which they cannot help, but sometimes when we see delicate and puny children, we cannot help feeling that their parents are neglectful.

Fathers and mothers of this town please regard what we say, especially if your little ones are delicate. Everything rests with you; you can make them strong and well; you can fortify their systems so that they will not be in a condition to take every prevalent disease. You can lay a foundation stone in their little lives that will give you joy and happiness in years to come when they become strong and hearty men and women. If you will let us tell you about Vinol and follow our advice you will save yourself many sleepless hours and an indefinite amount of worry.

We cannot tell you all we know about Vinol in a few words but we will gladly give you as much of our time as you wish if you will call on us at our store.

We wish to remind you once more that the virtue that Vinol possesses is due to the fact that it contains the active curative principles that have made cod-liver oil famous; there is no grease in it, and we can promise you that its taste is delicious, that it is loved by all children.

We know there is nothing better to assist the stomach of the little ones to properly assimilate the food which they eat. It is the means by which rich red blood is made; strong bone structure is built; hard firm fleshy tissue created; and healthy sound nerves maintained.

The following from Mrs. Jennie Perse, 100 Newman St., Mansfield, O., who says: "I wish to add a few words of praise in favor of Vinol. My little boy was very much debilitated, so much so in fact that he had to leave school. He really was a mere shadow. At that time I decided to give him Vinol. He has now taken a couple of bottles and is rapidly gaining flesh. I wish to recommend Vinol to all who are in need of a tonic."

Not only for children but for adults do we recommend Vinol without reservation and stand prepared to refund all money to those who do not find absolute satisfaction in its use.

FIERCE HURRICANE OF FLAME

HOW CITY AND PEOPLE OF ST. PIERRE WERE DESTROYED.

Populace Stricken by Consuming Fire of Burning Gas—Facts are Most Astounding.

Fort de France, Martinique, May 13.—St. Pierre was destroyed, not by lava streams and not by showers of redhot rocks, but by one all-consuming blast of suffocating, poisonous, burning gases.

Death came to the inhabitants instantly. It was not a matter of hours or minutes. It was a matter of seconds. They did not burn to death. They died by breathing flame and their bodies were burned afterward.

DROP IN TRACKS.

It is not merely true that no person inside the limits of the town escaped, but it is probably a literal fact that no person lived long enough to take two steps toward escape.

These facts, which will go on record as the most astounding in the history of human catastrophes, have been practically established by the investigations of today and yesterday at the site of the city, helped out in slight degree by the scanty testimony of the few tortured sufferers on boats in the harbor who alone survived.

UNIQUE IN HISTORY.

The manner of the annihilation of St. Pierre is unique in the history of the world. Pompeii was not a parallel, for Pompeii was eaten up by demoniac rivers of lava, and lava became its tomb. But where St. Pierre once stood there is not even a lava bed now. The city is gone from the earth.

The half-dead victims who escaped on the Roddam or were brought here by the Suchet talked of a "hurricane of flame" that had come upon them. It now appears that that phrase was no figure of speech, but a literal statement of what happened.

DEATH COMES QUICKLY.

There are bodies lying in the streets of the city—or rather on the ground where streets once were, for in many places it is impossible to trace the line between streets and building sites—to which death came so suddenly that the smiles on the faces did not have time to change to the lines of agony.

That does not mean death by burning, though the bodies have been charred and half consumed, nor does it mean suffocation, for suffocation is slow. It can mean only the bath of burning fumes into which the city was plunged affected the victims like a terribly virulent poison when the first whiff of the gases entered their lungs.

HANDS ON MOUTHS.

There are many of the victims who died with their hands to their mouths. That one motion of the arm was probably the only one that they made before they became unconscious. Others fell to their faces and died with their lips pressed into the earth.

There was no time to run, perhaps no time even to cry out, no time to breathe a prayer. It was as if St. Pierre had been just dipped into an immense white-hot furnace and then set out to cool. Mont Pelee went sputtering on, but that made no longer any difference. In the city all life was destroyed.

BURNS ALL THINGS.

Every combustible thing was burned. Animal bodies, full of moisture, glowed awhile and then remained charred wrecks. Wood and other easily combustible things burned to ashes.

On the ground lay the bodies, amidst heaps of hot mud, heaps of gleaming ashes and piles of volcanic stones. That was all.

That St. Pierre and the strip of coast to the north and south of it were burned in an instant was probably due to the first break in the mountain coming on its western side and immediately above them, though the direction of the wind may have had a little to do with it.

HIGH RESORT ESCAPES.

In this way one can understand how the mountain resort of Morne Rouge, where about 600 people were staying, escaped annihilation. Rocks and dust and boiling mud fell upon it, no doubt harming it, but they did not destroy it, for it was out of the way of the pathway of the first awful blast.

Since Thursday, beginning, indeed, immediately after the first explosion, Mont Pelee has been sending down lava streams in many directions. They have filled the ravines and followed river courses and made their way to the sea. They have done great destruction, but most of the inhabitants in their course have had some chance at least to escape.

WIDE SWEEP OF LAVA.

From La Precheur around the northern end of the island, to Grand Riviere Macoube, and perhaps to Grand Anse, directly across the island from St. Pierre, the lava has been flowing. Great crevasses are opening from time to time in the hills. The earth is undulating like waves. Rivers are thrown out of their courses by the change in land levels. In some places they submerge the land and form lakes. In other places they are licked up by the lava that flows on them and turns them to steam.

DIE OF FRIGHT.

Constant rumblings, thunder and lightning storms make the surroundings so terrible that many persons have actually died of fright.

There is no reason to change earlier estimates as to the total loss of life in the neighborhood of St. Pierre. Four thousand people have been brought here on lighters from the neighborhood of Le Precheur. There are still others to take off. It is estimated that as many as 1,000 people have died on the hills from injuries and exhaustion since they took refuge there.

IN NORTHERN INDIANA.

DeKalb county has 7,344 school children.

Mrs. J. M. Bash, of Warsaw, died suddenly from heart trouble.

Mrs. Susan Hocker, of Berne, 78 years of age, died a few days ago.

Rev. C. A. Hill has resigned the pastorate of the First Christian church at Huntington.

John Briggs, a pioneer of Kosciusko county, is dead. He was an elder brother of Judge H. S. Briggs, of Warsaw.

Ed Pastor tripped upon a rug at his home in Huntington and fell in such a manner as to fracture his leg below the knee.

A divorce was granted to a Whitley county man last week at a cost of only $1.90. This amount included the total cost attached to the case.

Mrs. James G. Moore, of Huntington, dropped dead from heart disease in her kitchen Monday morning. She had apparently been in the best of health.

The cornerstone of the new Zion Lutheran church at Friedheim, Adams county, was laid Sunday with appropriate ceremonies. A crowd of 2,000 was in attendance.

It is claimed that factories at Bluffton have boycotted the postoffice there because Postmaster Sharpe is believed to have fought the proposition to vote a subsidy to the D. U. and H. railroad.

T. J. Bower, a farmer living near Wabash, has purchased one hundred Angora goats and expects to go into the business of raising the animals. The goats are white, long-haired animals, but differ decidedly from the common goat.

Arthur L. Johnson, of South Bend, has sued the Epworth hospital, of that city, for $10,000 damages. Johnson's wife, while under treatment at the institution and temporarily deranged, jumped from a window and received injuries from which she died. Johnson alleges carelessness upon the part of the hospital attendants.

Huntington Herald: Jacob Ahner, of Fort Wayne, will preach next Sunday at 10:30 and 7:30 at the Lutheran church on the Fort Wayne road. It is desired that large congregations turn out and enjoy these services. Mr. Ahner was raised in the neighborhood of this church and there will no doubt be many of his old friends present to hear him expound the Gospel from his religious standpoint.

James Leonard, who was here for a brief visit, left yesterday for his home in the east. Mrs. Leonard and her two sons will remain here a couple of weeks, the guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. K. McCracken.

A Wife Says:

"We have four children." With the first three I suffered almost unbearable pains from 12 to 14 hours, and had to be placed under the influence of chloroform. I used three bottles of Mother's Friend before our last child came, which is a strong, fat and healthy boy, doing my housework up to within two hours of birth, and suffered but a few hard pains. This liniment is the grandest remedy ever made."

Mother's Friend

will do for every woman what it did for the Minnesota mother who writes the above letter. Not to use it during pregnancy is a mistake to be paid for in pain and suffering. Mother's Friend equips the patient with a strong body and clear intellect, which in turn are imparted to the child. It relaxes the muscles and allows them to expand. It relieves morning sickness and nervousness. It puts all the organs concerned in perfect condition for the final hour, so that the actual labor is short and practically painless. Danger of rising or hard breasts is altogether avoided, and recovery is merely a matter of a few days.

QUEEN REGENT TO RETIRE

CHRISTINA NO LONGER DEPUTY RULER OF SPAIN.

Said Good-Bye to Ministers—Her Last Official Act—Alfonso to Take Oath Saturday.

Madrid, May 13.—The brilliant weather yesterday encouraged the crowds to pour out into the streets of the city and every thoroughfare was filled with merrymakers. The appearance of the streets was in strong contrast to the scene which at the same time was being enacted within the palace. Here the festivity gave place to a drama. The queen regent of Spain was sorrowfully taking leave of her ministers and practically relinquishing to her son the solemn charge which she has so faithfully fulfilled for the past sixteen and one-half years.

Premier Sagasta and his colleagues proceeded to the palace at 11 o'clock for a formal leave taking of the queen regent and to present for her majesty's signature the last decrees to which her hand and seal will ever be affixed as queen regent of Spain. When her majesty withdrew her pen from the parchment conferring the Order of Golden Fleece on the duke of Cumberland, her eyes were moist. Her regency really terminated at this time, although, until the king takes his oath in the presence of the Chambers, May 17, his mother remains officially the queen regent.

It was a pathetic scene when the ministers were ushered into the queen regent's cabinet. She received them with the young king at her side. Premier Sagasta, in an eloquent address of leave taking delivered in behalf of himself and his colleagues, recalled the day when the queen regent, fresh from the grief of her widowhood, honored him with her confidence although she scarcely knew him. He compared that day to this, when the young king, with his devoted mother at his side, was about to enter upon an exercise of his constitutional prerogative. "I was prime minister then and I am prime minister now," said Senor Sagasta. "During the almost seventeen intervening years," continued Senor Sagasta, "the noble queen regent has been a slave to duty. She has sacrificed her youth to the jealous guardianship of her children. She has suffered much, but her majesty finds compensation today in the happiness of the king."

The queen regent listened to Senor Sagasta with increasing emotion. Finally, with tears running down her cheeks, she responded and thanked him. Her majesty said, however short of her own ideals she might have fallen, she always had the welfare of the country sincerely at heart and had done what she could to repay the loving kindness always shown her. She said she hoped the councilors would help her son as they had helped her, because although the king might possess natural gifts, he was still young and needed the help of good advice.

Then, after signing the decree fixing the ceremonial of taking the oath for May 17, the queen regent announced her desire to modify the ceremonial. Her majesty said that on May 17 her governmental functions would cease, and she would then become simply the queen dowager, zealous for the welfare of her children, but standing absolutely aside from public affairs. Therefore, her majesty explained that she desired to go to the Chamber accompanied solely by her daughters, as the widow of the late monarch, without any ostentation and receiving only the honors due her personal rank.

Premier Sagasta respectfully replied that the ministers were unable to accede to her majesty's desire in this matter because, until the king took the oath she was still the regent and ought to accompany her son until the last solemn moment. The queen regent yielded to Premier Sagasta's representations and agreed to accompany the king to the steps of the throne.

When the story of Chinese atrocities filled the papers and shocked the world, it was the women who drew the pity and sympathy of all. Doubtless many a wife who heard her husband's words of sympathy for these women thought with a pang, of the blindness of men to the suffering under their very eyes. It is true. The suffering of women in China was severe but short. Many a wife suffers for years with a daily agony of pain, her nerves shattered, her strength almost gone, and never hears a word of sympathy.

To women such as these Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription brings the opportunity of a new lease of health and happiness. It establishes regularity, dries the drains which weaken women, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. Mr. J. S. Tyler, of 115 Shawnee avenue, carpenter by trade, says: "I have great faith in Doan's Kidney Pills and can highly recommend them as a most worthy remedy. I was afflicted with kidney complaint for a number of years. It differed somewhat from the ordinary cases, for when I was up and around my back did not ache, but as soon as I got in bed it started and the only way I could get relief was by getting up. Many a night I have spent sleeping in a chair. When I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills, sold at Meyer Bros. & Co.'s drug store, I had become so bad that I had to get up nearly every night and could get no rest except in a chair. The very first night after I started to use this remedy I slept as well as I ever did without feeling one touch of pain. I hardly believe that many people are affected with their kidneys just as I was, but whether they are or not they cannot make a mistake if they give Doan's Kidney Pills a trial."

ERIE STREET.

Mrs. Jos. Ankenbruck, of No. 30 Erie street, says: "I did not take Doan's Kidney Pills sold at Meyer Bros. & Co.'s drug store as I should, but they did me good. My son, George, was affected with kidney trouble and backache, and he started taking them. It was not long before he was cured."

LIBERTY STREET

Mrs. J. R. Brockerman, of No. 9 Liberty street, says: "My husband and I both found Doan's Kidney Pills, sold at Meyer Bros. & Co.'s drug store, a most worthy remedy, and one that we can highly recommend. Before I took them my kidneys were in a very bad shape. My back ached continually and was so lame and weak I could not stoop and get up again. When I lay down my husband had to help me up. I had dizzy spells and everything whirled so that I almost lost my balance. Doan's Kidney Pills had a most beneficial effect on me and I enjoyed better health than I had before in months. My husband also took some of the two boxes we had, and he was greatly benefitted."

BASS STREET

Mrs. Flora Brown, of 37 Bass street, says: "My daughter and I had read a good deal about Doan's Kidney Pills and the wonderful cures they were making, so we decided to get them. I had kidney trouble, as the secretions were discolored and contained sediment, my feet swelled and I was much bothered with dizziness; still I did not have my trouble with backache. My daughter got Doan's Kidney Pills for me at Meyer Bros. & Co.'s drug store and I began taking them as directed. They were just what I needed. From day to day as I continued the treatment I improved until I was in good health."

HEROINE SAVES LIVES.

Norristown, Pa., May 13.—The presence of mind of Miss Katie Henderson saved thirty men employed in the quarries at West Conshohocken from death or injury. Miss Henderson resides a short distance from the quarry, and as she looked from a window she saw that the roof of the powder magazine was blazing. The men at work in the quarry were not aware of their danger until she ran to the quarry and warned them, not a second too soon. While the men and Miss Henderson were fleeing for their lives there was a terrible explosion. The air was filled with splinters, stones and dirt, which showered upon their heads. In the magazine which exploded there were thirty kegs of powder and 300 pounds of dynamite. Nothing but a hole in the ground marks the place where the powder house stood.

SPANISH FIGHTING IN CUBA

started efforts in our southern States which have resulted in important developments.

The secret of Cuba's delicious Vuelta tobacco has been found out and successfully applied in three states touching southern Atlantic and Gulf waters.

At the time when tobacco agriculture was paralyzed in Cuba, Bondy & Lederer of New York were induced to experiment with transplanted tobacco sprouts---not seed growths, but best young Vuelta plants— in portions of Florida and Louisiana and Texas, where the land elevation and distance from salt water was right. Sea mists turned into a heated moisture by a tropical sun, daily alternating this steamed hot-house-like moisture with the dead heat which dries it up before each sunset, are the necessary atmospheric conditions. A soil made loamy with a rich decayed vegetation developed and rotted for ages in alternating mist and heat is the necessary kind of soil. With soil exactly the same, land elevation similar, and action of the sun and the sea air just right all that was necessary was the introduction of the plant exactly as it was introduced and multiplied in Cuba's Vuelta abajos district half a century ago. The result of growing perfect Vuelta tobacco on American soil could not fail and it has been even more than a complete success, for the new soil has yielded admittedly finer results than the old soil whose richness had been sapped so long. With these growths Bondy & Lederer escaped the enormous import duties and have been able to use this class of filler for the first time ever known in a five cent cigar.

GUARANTEE by DANIEL STEWART CO.

We guarantee that if you try a TOM KEENE cigar you will find it has that same mellow "Java Coffee taste" peculiar to the finest grades of imported cigars of the milder type. You will recognize at once, and will appreciate this marked difference in a cigar at five cents, and we believe will be likely to circulate this information among your friends and help induce them to try the TOM KEENE cigar, and themselves recognize its new effect in taste and aroma.

We know fully about these plantations of Bondy & Lederer, in Florida, Louisiana and Texas. We find good reason to know that the very distinct and remarkable superority of the TOM KEENE of today as a five-cent cigar is not imaginary or chance, but is due to two natural conditions---to a tobacco growth of the best kind in the world, properly cured, and the escape of heavy import duties.

DISCUSSED BY BUSINESS MEN

MUNICIPAL LIGHTING UP IN COMMERCIAL CLUB.

No Decisive Expression is Voiced, But Majority Opinion Was Antagonistic.

Municipal ownership of electric lighting plants was the theme under discussion at the meeting of the Commercial club last evening, and while both sides of the proposition were brought out, the majority of the speakers were inclined to the negative side of the question, favoring a long-term franchise to a private company with provisions for proper municipal control and regulation as to rates, extensions, etc. The attendance was not large, but among those present was a generous proportion of the stockholders of the Jenney Electric Light and Power company.

The lighting proposition was taken up after the disposition of some routine business, and after President Culbertson had been authorized to appoint a member of the club upon the council of administration of the Indiana state board of commerce.

Mayor Berghoff was the first speaker, and in opening he related the history of the local lighting company, told of the franchises under which it was operating, and explained his plan whereby the city may ultimately acquire the ownership of the plant. This, as has already been set forth, contemplates the acquiring by purchase of a controlling interest in the stock by the city at once, permitting the earnings of the plant to gradually purchase the balance of the stock and taking care of the bonds necessary for extensions.

The mayor expressed the belief that there is general desire for municipal ownership. The present company, he said, does not want to increase the size and capacity of its plant without a more satisfactory franchise than the revokable measure under which it is now operating, and he believed no franchise will ever be passed which does not tend toward ultimate municipal ownership of the plant. He believed municipal ownership of public utilities a good thing for the people, but said the business must be absolutely divorced from politics and its influences. He cited a number of examples from other cities, among them Detroit, where under municipal ownership street lighting is supplied at a cost of $67.31 per arc light, for all night and every night service. He stated that the question had been brought up before the Commercial club because he sincerely desired to learn the opinion and get the judgment of the people upon what the city ought to do in this manner.

MR. WHITE'S VIEWS.

President J. W. White, of the Jenney company, stated that the limited franchise under which the company is now operating is unsatisfactory, for the reason that the company was unable under its terms to secure money upon which to make needed extensions. He thought the proposition made by the company last winter, of 2 per cent of its gross earnings for a franchise, was a very fair one, including as it did a provision whereby the city might at almost any time acquire the ownership of the plant if it chose to do so. "Municipal ownership," continued Mr. White, "is a great question. It is sometimes satisfactory and sometimes disastrous. For myself I have never been strongly committed to municipal ownership. I believe, however, if the city is going into municipal ownership, it would be better for it to take on a business already established. If the city cannot handle a property of this kind, it would be very hard to go into business in any other way."

DOES NOT FAVOR IT.

P. A. Randall believed the question of municipal ownership an easy thing to talk of and conjure with, but in practice it was likely to prove a different proposition. Not always the fittest men are selected to manage municipal affairs, and the plant could only be made a successful venture by conducting it upon strictly business lines. He thought public ownership a waste of ownership; said this country had been built up on individualism, and that municipal ownership is drifting away from the practice that has made this country great.

Mr. Randall favored private ownership, with public regulation and control. The owners should account to the people for the proper use of the facilities granted it. He favored a long-time franchise, with privilege of revision every few years. The present rates should be lowered. It is time Fort Wayne was getting cheaper lights. He believed the machinery and systems used here were not of the most modern character and that an immediate additional outlay would be necessary for improvements should the city acquire the plant, and he questioned the advisability of purchasing it. "Before the city goes into this business at all," said Mr. Randall, "it ought to have the benefit of the best expert opinion it can obtain."

C. E. Bond expressed himself in favor of giving the present company a long-time franchise, under proper restrictive and governmental measure, and permitting them to operate the business. Mr. Bond illustrated his position by an elaborate statement of figures, based upon the estimates of the mayor, whereby he believed that the cost of lighting could be materially lowered, both for municipal and commercial lighting, even with the plant in the hands of private owners.

BELIEVED IT UNWISE.

F. S. Hunting, of the Fort Wayne Electric works, said that as a citizen he was unfavorable to municipal ownership of lighting plants, and his observation had led him to believe that municipal administration of these affairs was as a general thing not so satisfactory as private ownership under proper regulative franchises. He favored a long-time franchise for the company and a revision of the rates.

C. H. Worden, of the Jenney company, was inclined to the opinion that a man can administer his own business better than by trusting it to others, and he did not favor municipal ownership. The present company, said Mr. Worden, is in the position that it either wants a franchise or an opportunity to do business in some way. Under present franchise conditions money for needed extensions cannot be secured. However, the business is a profitable one and Mr. Worden believed Mr. Berghoff's plan to be feasible if divorced from politics and properly managed. At present rates for lighting he thought it could be accomplished in ten years, though all depended upon how carefully and systematically the business were managed if the city secured it.

PLAN WORTH TRYING.

S. M. Foster believed that if the city wanted to go into business Mayor Berghoff's plan merited approval. The speaker was not pessimistic regarding municipal ownership, and thought if it could not be made a success it would be a reflection upon the business ability of the community. If it were mismanaged, we would pay the penalty. We have municipal ownership in schools, and no one will say their administration is not as successful as though they were private enterprises. The rights of property, however, should be recognized; there should be no disposition to deal unfairly with the present owners. Personally, Mr. Foster said, he had hoped the city would see its way clear to try municipal ownership. He thought it would be a good thing to try upon a non-partisan basis.

Councilman Hosey spoke at some length, strongly advocating municipal ownership, and he expressed the belief that the evidence shows that as a rule the plan is successful. Mr. Hosey cited the waterworks as an example, saying the plant had cost in all ways a total of about $1,500,000 and that it was now worth at least double that amount. He believed the cost to the people in the same time under private ownership would have been much greater than the sum expended. He would acquire the plant, make extensions to reach every portion of the city, and supply lighting at a rate which all could afford.

When Mr. Hosey had concluded Mr. Ten Broek moved that a ballot be taken to secure an expression of the club upon the proposition. A. J. Moynihan entered a protest that the proposition was unfair, inasmuch as the attendance was small and so largely made up of gentlemen interested in the Jenney company. Mr. Foster interposed a motion to lay Mr. Ten Broek's motion upon the table, but before it could be put Mr. Ten Broek hurriedly withdrew his motion, which ended the lighting discussion.

Just previous to adjournment Alexander Johnson spoke briefly on the county fair matter, stating that a total of about $6,000 out of the minimum $10,000 worth of stock had been subscribed, and he urged the prompt signature of subscription blanks mailed to members today.

CERO-FRUTO

"An All-Day Food"

Wheat and Pure Fruit Combined.

is a perfect food. It is sustaining to a wonderful degree. It is also very satisfying. Through its use the digestive apparatus is not overworked. Instead of experiencing a feeling of uncomfortableness after eating, one feels positively refreshed on the completion of the meal of CERO-FRUTO. This is because the greatest amount of nutritive energy with the least degree of digestive exertion is obtained.

Do not over-feed the stomach—if you value your health. It rebels at innutritious, indigestible and unpalatable food. Why should any such be forced upon it? Why eat twenty-two pounds of cabbage when one pound of CERO-FRUTO will furnish an equal amount of nutrition, to say nothing of the time saved in the eating of it?

CERO-FRUTO is, in the opinion of many, the most delicious and healthful food ever put on the market. It is not merely a "breakfast food," but is adapted, admirably adapted, to morning, noon or evening meals. It is a purifier of the blood, a stimulant for the brain, a tonic for the nerves and a builder of muscle. It possesses 100 per cent nutritive value. It is a combination of the best wheat with the best of fruits. The remarkable thing about it is that the "fruit-flavor" is equally distinguishable. It is equally well adapted to all ages and all conditions of the digestive system. Being thoroughly cooked, pre-digested and sterilized, it is ready to eat whenever wanted. Sold by all grocers.

CARS TO ANDREWS SUNDAY.

(Huntington Democrat.)

Officials of the Fort Wayne and Southwestern Traction company feel positive that cars will be running to Andrews over their line by next Sunday. Work on the main track that far west is almost completed and a Y is being placed this week. After that cars will not stop in Huntington twenty minutes each trip as they do now, and the three cars will continue to handle the traffic. The road will not be very smooth at first and much work will be required to ballast it properly. No line can be built into Andrews until arrangements are completed for a new bridge across the Wabash at that place, as the present bridge is too light. The company put a large force at work this morning laying steel in Fort Wayne. A force worked Sunday on the west end of the line. Sunday traffic was unusually heavy.

PREACHER OWNS TO MURDER.

Springfield, Ill., May 13.—An unexpected turn was given the Charles Isaksson murder mystery yesterday when Rev. John Poleet, who has been held here on surpicion of having committed the crime, made a full confession of the deed. Poleet's confession is made in a letter written to his father-in-law, John Walker, of Jerseyville. He says he was seized with an irresistible desire to murder his companion and had no control over his action when committing the deed. The confession is a surprise to the jail officials who, although convinced the prisoner was guilty, were doubtful of securing sufficient evidence for a conviction.

St. Louis won a doubtful game from New York yesterday by a very close score, and Cincinnati losing badly to Philadelphia, robbed the Superbas out of last place. The attendance at yesterday's games shows plainly that St. Louis and Cincinnati will not support losing teams. The former had 700 patrons yesterday and Cincinnati had 900, the aggregate attendance in the four cities being 5,700, and the result of the games was as follows:

Philadelphia losing to Boston strengthened St. Louis' lead slightly, inasmuch as the latter club defeated the tailenders right cleverly. AMERICAN ASSOCIATION.

Standing of the Clubs.

	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
St. Paul	10	5	.667
Columbus	11	6	.647
Louisville	9	7	.563
Kansas City	9	7	.562
Indianapolis	8	7	.533
Milwaukee	7	8	.533
Minneapolis	4	12	.250
Toledo	3	11	.214

The two games in the American association yesterday were remarkable for the one-sidedness of the scores, as a glance at the subjoined table will show. Minneapolis did not play, but Toledo did, and more's the pity, for Milwaukee shut them out. By losing to Kansas City yesterday and St. Paul not playing, Columbus lost first place to St. Paul by a very narrow margin. The games played resulted as follows:

Columbus, 1; Kansas City, 11.
Toledo, 0; Milwaukee, 4.
Indianapolis-St. Paul. Louisville-Minneapolis—rain.

GAMES TODAY.

Columbus at Kansas City.
Toledo at Milwaukee.
Indianapolis at St. Paul.
Louisville at Minneapolis.

BEAT OLD KEKIONGAS.

An Indianapolis man who was a base ball fan so long ago as 1869, is recounting some of the exploits of the famous Cincinnati Reds in that year when the team never suffered a defeat. Only nine men were permitted, and no substitutes were allowed. Masks, mitts, fielders' gloves and breast protectors were unknown. Two games that year were with the Fort Wayne Kekiongas, and Cincinnati was victorious in both contests, the first on May 10, by a score of 86 to 8; the second on May 22, score 41 to 7.

THE HAPPY HOOLIGANS.

One will be played in the forenoon and the other in the afternoon. Several enthusiasts of the national amusement of this city are making arrangements to be in attendance.

WEYMOUTH—PERRY.

On Saturday evening a very pretty home wedding occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Perry, 1114 Harrison street, when their daughter, Miss Bertha, was united in marriage to J. S. Weymouth, an employe of the Banner Laundry company. A bountiful wedding supper was served after the ceremony. Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Weaver and daughter, of Decatur; Mr. and Mrs. Romey and Mrs. Thompson, of Rome City.

LIKE A DROWNING MAN.

"Five years ago a disease the doctors called dyspepsia took such hold of me that I could scarcely go," writes Geo. S. Marsh, well known attorney of Nocona, Tex. "I took quantities of pepsin and other medicines, but nothing helped me. As a drowning man grabs at a straw, I grabbed at Kodol. I felt an improvement at once and after a few bottles am sound and well." Kodol is the only preparation which exactly reproduces the natural digestive juices and consequently is the only one which digests any good food and cures any form of stomach trouble. Meyer Bros. & Co.

Road houses, where meals are served for $1.50 each, have been established at convenient distances in the upper Yukon country to facilitate travel.

TRAVELING IS DANGEROUS.

Constant motion jars the kidneys which are kept in place in the body by delicate attachments. This is the reason that travelers, trainmen, street car men, teamsters and all who drive very much suffer from kidney disease in some form. Foley's Kidney Cure strengthens the kidneys and cures all forms of kidney and bladder disease. Geo. H. Hausan, locomotive engineer, Lima, O., writes: "Constant vibration of the engine caused me a great deal of trouble with my kidneys, and I got no relief until I used Foley's Kidney Cure." Sold by Dreier & Bro. and Pellens & Polster.

The highest price ever paid for a poem was 6,000 golden crowns paid to Sannazaro by the citizens of Venice for his eulogy on their city—a poem of six lines only.

WHAT THIN FOLKS NEED

Is a greater power of digesting and assimilating food. For them Dr. King's New Life Pills work wonders. They tone and regulate the digestive organs, gently expel all poisons from the system, enrich the blood, improve appetite, make healthy flesh. Only 25c at Dreier & Bro.
